CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

Great Interest in Contest for Governor—Senatorial and Representative Fights

The state campaign will close this evening, when, in the vernacular, it will be all over but the cheering. It has been an extremely close campaign throughout, each candidate standing only and without reservation on the terms of his party.

Governor Walsh has presented himself as a candidate on his record, during his two years' incumbency. He has pointed out the legislation beneficial to the working people of the state that has been enacted through his influence and efforts, notably the important amendment to the workingmen's compensation bill. He has raised an issue relative to the production of milk and

SINKING OF LUSITANIA

NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND GERMANY TO BE RESUMED TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Negotiations between Germany and the United States regarding the sinking of the liner Lusitania and the other questions pending between the two nations will be resumed tomorrow when Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will call upon Secretary Lansing at the state department. The question of indemnity for Americans lost in the sinking of the Arctik still is unsettled and probably will be taken up.

The belief prevailed among state department officials that Secretary Lansing would officially make known to the German ambassador the result of the examination of the steel fragment picked up on the Allan liner Hesperian which naval experts believe was part of a torpedo. The German government in a note has denied that the Hesperian was torpedoed by a German submarine.

THE TRUTH ABOUT WOMAN SUFFRAGE

There were 1,074,000 women of voting age in Massachusetts at the last census.

The Anti-Suffrage Association, after 20 years of the most expensive and thorough canvass ever taken in the history of our State, has been able to put on its list

ONLY 36,000 WOMEN OPPOSED TO SUFFRAGE

This leaves, according to their own figures,

OVER 1,000,000 WOMEN WHO ARE NOT OPPOSED TO SUFFRAGE

Should the wishes of 36,000 women, who are anxious to shirk their duty as citizens, be used to offset the wishes of Over 1,000,000 patriotic women who are ready and willing to help the honest men of our State to make the State better and protect the home?

"Honey" Budloag Who Killed Detective Dorman Surrounded and Shot Down by Officers

STRAFFORD, Conn., Nov. 1.—Riddled with bullets as a result of resisting capture at Avon Park today, Linde Budloag, alias "Honey" Budloag, slayer of Detective Bennett W. Dorman of the New Haven police force is dying at a Bridgeport hospital.

The capture was made near the "haunted" house where Budloag had made his headquarters since arriving in this vicinity about noon Saturday. He was killed from the house by supposed friends. The police, some from New Haven and some from Bridgeport, were hidden nearby. As he emerged from the house the police began to close on him. He drew an automatic revolver but as he started to fire he slipped. The officers opened fire on him and half a dozen or more bullets were sent into him. He was then made prisoner and taken to the hospital. Physicians say he has practically no chance for recovery.

CHINA REFUSES

Rejects Proposals for Postponement of Change to Monarchical Form

PEKING, Nov. 1.—The Chinese government today rejected the proposals of Japan, Great Britain and Russia for postponement of the decision whether a monarchical form of government is to be re-established.

The decision of the Chinese government was made known by Tsao Yulin, vice minister of foreign affairs. He called at the British, Russian and Japanese legations and informed the ministers that the Chinese government had been advised by provincial officials that they would be able to maintain tranquility in the event of re-establishment of the monarchy.

Tsao Yulin thanked the powers for their friendly interest in the welfare of China. He said the decision concerning a change in the form of government was wholly in the hands of the people, and that, therefore, it would be impossible to adopt the suggestion for a postponement.

The vice minister's communication was verbal, as were the representations of the three powers.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Large cotton mills in Texas are expected to be open in the market for considerable Texas cotton.

The German coal industry is probably the most highly and completely organized industry in the world.

Our total production of coal for dye-stuff materials at present is probably over three times the production prior to the war.

It takes approximately 1,700 lbs. of blue cotton as it comes from the field to make one bale of 500 lb. weight of ginned cotton.

At the recent convention of the Massachusetts state branch, American Federation of Labor women suffrage was unanimously endorsed.

A well known textile manufacturer says that a boss who feels like a tall chimney and cannot get the same draft out of his men is but an indication of the real thing.

No definite arrangement for arbitration between the Lanson company and the striking employees has yet been arranged by the state board of conciliation and arbitration.

William A. Barr, who has been for the past four years paymaster for the Edwards Manufacturing Co., Augusta, Me., has resigned his position to enter the employ of the Tremont & Suffolk mills of this city.

Machinists employed at the Heine Electric Co. started today on an eight hour shift. The shift from now on will be staggered, one from 6:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., to 12 midnight, both with suitable time out for dinner.

Committees from the plasterers' union and bricklayers' union met in joint session last week for the purpose of formulating new working agreements. The result of the conference will be made known at the regular meetings of both organizations.

Organizer Thomas P. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of this city who has charge of the Nashua strike situation now has a big job on his hands to prevent outbreaks among the strikers as a result of Act. Roscoe L. Miliken's refusal to grant any concessions to his former employees.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. MR. ARCHIBALD PREACHES ON CLAIMS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Speaking on prohibition and woman suffrage at the First Baptist church, Sunday night, the pastor, Rev. A. C. Archibald said, that we cannot separate the Christian life of the church from the Christian life in any other life of endeavor. Christianity means Christian ideals everywhere, and not alone in the church. He said the politicians will object to the carrying of a man's Christianity to the polls, because the politician doesn't usually thrive upon such a spirit. And the worldly church member will object, because he will have to give up a lot of things which he now follows. When Christianity, he said, rules in our social and political life then a lot of things which are now allowed to go on will not be tolerated. "No man can be a Christian in church and not vote for a Christian measure at the polls," said Mr. Archibald. "I say," he continued, "that the saloons of our city make for debauchery of the public mind in every way. They are causes of immorality, and I have been told by one who knows, that 75 per cent of all the crime committed here is due directly to the evil influence of liquor."

"I am against the argument of the anti-suffragists that women, if they vote will go out of their true sphere. That is not an argument at all, for thousands of women have gone into new spheres and have remained just as truly feminine as any who remain in their homes. The statement of those opposed is that women are the clinging vines, that they should be protected from the turmoil of business and politics and all such conditions. But the argument falls flat, because the majority of them are not clinging vines; neither are they protected from the turmoil. The vast majority of them are workers in the factory, in the home in offices. And the only thing womanhood suffrage has ever given them is the right to do the same work that men do for half the remuneration."

THE NESMITH ESTATE

MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO PURCHASE ESTATE FROM STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

The trustees of the will of John Nesmith of this city, it is stated, are endeavoring to purchase the estate in Lowell, mostly in John street and Holland street, and owned by the state of New Hampshire. The estate is valued at nearly $100,000.

John Nesmith was a native of New Hampshire. When he died in 1853 he left a will which provided that on the death of his heirs the property should go to the state of New Hampshire, the income to be used for the support and education of the indigent blind.

The legislature in 1911 authorized Gov. Russ to dispose of the state's interest in the estate if such course should seem desirable. Shortly after the surviving heirs, of whom there were then five, offered $35,000 for the state's interest.

Gov. Russ appointed Judge William M. Chase to make an appraisal and his report gave the value of the real estate at $131,000 and of the personal property $15,000.

At the session of the legislature of 1913 a resolution was passed reaffirming the acceptance of the gift and authorizing Gov. Feltner to take all necessary measures to protect, conserve and enforce the right of the state in the gift.

The heirs have a life interest in the estate. There are at present three, the youngest of whom is 58 years old.

COUNTESS MAGRI IS 74

FAMOUS MIDGET, FORMERLY MRS. TOM THUMB, ENJOYS TABLET MEMORY OF RICHARD WARREN

MIDDLEBORO, Nov. 1.—Countess Magri, better known by her former name of Mrs. General Tom Thumb, yesterday celebrated her 74th birthday at her home in Warrentown, a village of this town, with a brass band, a set of moving picture cameras in action, and a gathering of about 500 persons, many of whom came from a distance. Countess Magri and her husband unveiled a small boulder that has been placed in her front yard, which bears a bronze tablet in memory of Richard Warren, one of the voyagers in the Mayflower, who is the countess's ancestor.

After the ceremony of unveiling the boulder and holding a national flag to the masthead of the house, the countess closed by it, the count and countess, and their guests in their home. It was nearly sundown before the party was over.

The simplicity with which Countess Magri went through the afternoon and the dignity with which she presided at the ceremonies were entirely delightful. Her experiences all over the world during which she has been royally more than once, and has been the familiar of great personages, have given her a manner which is oddly upon her distinctly New England personality.

For Countess Lavinia Magri was born within a stone's throw of the spot where her home stands. She was Lavinia Warren, eighth in descent from Richard Warren of the Mayflower "Pilgrims" and was born a midget. She was her sister, but three brothers were of the usual stature.

Countess Magri has been "in public life" which is to say show life, ever since she was a mere child. She married Gen. Tom Thumb at an early age, and together they traveled over the world.

Like Children's Play House

A few of yesterday's visitors were permitted to see the rooms occupied by the count and countess. Here all the furniture is of tiny size, as fit for the playroom of children. Two rooms are set apart on the second story of the house for their use and they are crammed from end to end with beautiful things, curios, furniture, especially designed and built, and practically all of it the gifts of admirers.

The house, a square built, old fashioned, rather plain country house, stands at a corner of the road out of Middleboro. Just across the way is the mansion of Gen. Tom Thumb. It has been abandoned by the countess since a short time after the general's death.

Early in the afternoon the party began to gather. The boulder, draped with a flag, stands near a temporary platform of planking built for the occasion, and folding chairs enough for the band and the family and speakers found about the boulder, and in close-packed ranks, and they filed in, the women and ladies against the fence in the bright but chilly afternoon. And out in the street the motor cars came thicker and thicker until there were about 500 parked along the road.

"Countess Magri, of the eighth generation from Richard Warren," announced Mr. Dancy, "will now unveil the boulder which has been placed in her front yard in memory of her ancestor." He lifted the tiny countess and the tiny count and the family and speakers found about the boulder, and in close-packed ranks, and they filed in, the women and ladies against the fence in the bright but chilly afternoon. And out in the street the motor cars came thicker and thicker until there were about 500 parked along the road.

"Now, in the name of Richard Warren and his descendants," said the countess, "I lift the flag that draws the stars and stripes. May his memory live forever!"

On the bronze tablet, in raised letters, is the inscription:
IN Memory of Richard Warren's Ancestors of the American Revolution, In Commemoration of My Seventy-fourth Birthday Countess Magri Mrs. General Tom Thumb

"I will now ask Benjamin Warren 'Jump in the name of the countess, to raise Old Glory,'" said the chairman.

EVERYBODY UNCOVERED, AND THE BAND PLAYED "THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER" AS THE BEAUTIFUL FLAG ROSE TO THE MAST-HEAD.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Starlight club entertained a number of their friends last Saturday at Miss Gertrude Mason's camp in North Chelmsford.

In the afternoon a vaudeville show was put on by an all star cast. Gertrude Mason was heard in Funniesties. Irene Crowe, a skillful violinist. Margaret Collins, monologist. Soft shoe and wooden shoe dancing by Jennie Rouke. May Moran was a wizard at the harmonica. Florence Usher gave some excellent whistling solos and imitations of birds. An original comic sketch entitled "My Neighbor Upstairs" was put on by Gertrude Mason, May Moran and Irene Crowe. The headline number was a minstrel show by the show club. After the vaudeville, a buffet luncheon was served. Then the evening was given over to dancing and Halloween games. Many valuable prizes were given.

The camp was beautifully decorated with the suffrage colors, yellow and black, and the favors received by the guests were small suffrage flags and buttons.

The patronesses of the party were Mrs. M. Mason, Mrs. Charlotte Thayer and Mrs. Edna Reid. The officers of the Starlight club are: Gertrude Mason, president; Jennie Rouke, secretary and Florence Usher, treasurer.

YOSHIMITO'S BIRTHDAY

Brilliant Celebration in Honor of the Emperor's 40th in Coronation Season in Japan

TOKIO, Nov. 1.—A brilliant celebration yesterday of the birthday of Emperor Yoshihito ushered in the coronation season, the most notable event of which will occur on Nov. 10, when the emperor will formally ascend to the throne of Nippon.

The emperor gave a luncheon in the palace to the royal princes and princesses and the diplomatic corps last night. This was followed by a dinner given by Baron Kikugoro Ishii, minister of foreign affairs, the reception being attended by many Americans.

It was decided Saturday night to cancel the arrangement for a review of troops by the emperor.

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucous amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vasoline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes.

Scott's is pleasant to take.

STATE BRANCH, A. F. OF L., ADOPTED RESOLUTIONS ON THE PEABODY FIRE

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—The members of the executive board of the state branch, A. F. of L., at their meeting in the Old South building yesterday, went on record as favoring more stringent fire prevention and protection laws. The following resolutions were adopted on the Peabody fire:

"Whereas, our hearts are touched with tender pity for the suffering and sorrow that has saddened the lives of the fathers and mothers in a score of homes in Peabody, and

"Whereas, the event which brought this desolation seems not to have been due to any violation of law, and

"Whereas, under the existing laws and ordinances the lives of our loved ones in schools, factories, mills, work-shops and tenements may be snuffed out without warning,

"Resolved, that the state branch, American Federation of Labor, lend every aid and assistance to so strengthen and perfect our safety laws that human life shall be properly safeguarded against fire."

Resolutions commending Judge Jas. B. Carroll of the supreme court for his work as former chairman of the industrial accident board were ordered entered to be presented to the judge at the first meeting of the Springfield Central Labor union in January.

The legislative committee has prepared the state branch bills to be presented to the next general court. In-

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Considerable important business was transacted at yesterday's meeting of Division 1, A.O.U., held with President George O'Meara presiding. Several committee reports were read. It was announced that the division will soon hold a smoke talk and chess initiation. The following committee was appointed to have charge of the arrangements: Chairman, Geo. O'Meara; secretary, Homer J. Verville; Martin McCarthy, Joseph Johnson, Henry Smith, James A. Sheehan, Thomas P. Sheedy, Patrick Reardon, John O'Hare, James E. Burns, James Lyons, Michael Barry, Michael Casey and Michael Mullen. The meeting adjourned and all plans will be submitted at the regular meeting Thursday night.

LINCOLN MASQUERADE BALL. The committee in charge of the Lincoln masquerade ball has completed arrangements and all that is necessary to make the affair the success of previous years is the co-operation of the club members and their invited guests. The concert program will begin at 7:45 and the grand march starts promptly at 8:15. Masqueraders are requested to be at Associate hall by 7:30, where the upper rooms of the building will be at their disposal.

BRITISH NAVY

Newspapermen Praise Fleet for Preparedness and Efficiency

LONDON, Nov. 1, 3:15 a. m.—Graphic descriptions of the first visit of British newspapermen to Great Britain's grand fleet are published by all the morning papers. They unite in paying tribute to the preparedness and efficiency of the British navy, not only as to the main fighting units but also to the less prominent but equally important auxiliaries of various types.

A naval officer aboard one of the ships told the correspondents that in addition to the war fleet proper, there are between 2500 and 3000 ships of the merchant marine employed in transport and supply duty, and as many more engaged in patrol work, or in fishing the "declining efforts of enemy submarines." The visitors were shown the celebrated map on which are marked the places where German submarines have been captured, destroyed or sunk and various methods for meeting the submarine menace were explained to them.

"We actually saw vessels engaged in this anti-submarine business, leaving port," says one correspondent. "Indeed, it is not necessary to go outside the harbor to understand why the blockade has failed. Here at anchor alongside one another lay the bone and the antidote."

One full day of the visit was spent in inspecting large new naval works at a place, which a short time ago was swamp land but now is a live and busy naval establishment which will be large enough when completed to accommodate 20 dreadnoughts. The works include three drydocks, each of which is capable of holding any ship afloat.

The party visited the battle cruisers Lion and Tiger, viewing the patched funnels and shell wounds received in the North sea battle. They also visited the Australia and New Zealand, colonial contributions to the high seas fleet.

One correspondent, touching on various devices used in painting, declares a super-dreadnought can be so cleverly disguised that even in daylight the practiced eye of a sailor is likely to mistake her for a craft a tooth of her size while the bulkiness of range finding are increased infinitely.

ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

ADDRESS AT COLONIAL HALL, BY DR. FRANCIS J. FLINNO, S.S.D. LAST NIGHT

Speaking on the principles of Christian Science, and addressing a large audience in Colonial hall, yesterday, Dr. Francis J. Flinno, S.S.D., said:

The claims of Christian Science on the modern world are the claims of the Christian Science on the archaic world, the present age and the ages to come.

It makes no new claims on the modern world; its claims are only new to the limited sense, the finite vision and the materially-bounded perception. The average man, until awakened by science, is mainly in his swaddling clothes, whose horizon is marked by the age in which he lives; or, more limited in his life and living, sees only to the boundaries of his own four years; or still more limited, sees the way to live and the ways of life, only in his own immediate business, church or creed.

If anything new comes to him, he is apt to deem it some insane or foolish inconsistency, some infringement upon the scriptures, or some new attempt of the evil one to win from his god. Christian Science is not a discovery of a new truth, but a new discovery of an old truth.

It turns the searchlight on animal magnetism, mesmerism, hypnotism and mental suggestion, and shows them to be dealing entirely with the mortal or finite mind, so-called, which is but the negative of the divine mind, or mind of God; and has no more existence, compared with the divine mind, than darkness has, compared with light.

CANNOT SAVE SERBIA

MILITARY CORRESPONDENT OF LONDON TIMES SAYS SITUATION IS DESPERATE

ROME, Oct. 31, via Paris, Nov. 1, 4:45 a. m.—Col. Repton, military correspondent of the London Times, declared in an interview given to the Associated Press that the situation of Serbia is desperate. With her army completely isolated, he said, its only chance of safety is to retire to the Adriatic coast, outside its own territory. Once there, Italy could either supply military help or provide provisions and munitions.

The expedition of the allies from Saloniki cannot arrive in time to save Serbia, Col. Repton asserted, while the Austro-Germans can be in Constantinople within a week. He believes, however, that whatever happens in the Orient, the eventual exhaustion of Germany and Austria will enable the allies to win.

"DON'T PITY ME," SAYS BRYAN

Has Seen Reforms Accomplished That 200 Years Ago Would Have Cost Many Lives, He Adds

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—In a speech for prohibition at a noon meeting yesterday William Jennings Bryan told an audience not to pity him for his "unsuccessful political career."

"Sometimes my friends have expressed their sympathy to me because of what they termed the unsuccessfulness of my political career," said Bryan. "Why, they shouldn't do that."

"Since I've been in politics reforms have been accomplished without the loss of a single life that would have cost thousands of lives in sacrifices 200 years ago."

"Pity me? Don't do it. If I had lived two centuries ago and advocated what I do now I would have been hanged. No one has accomplished any great reform without being abused and ostracized at first. But when a man believes he is in the right he must speak out."

FIRE HERO HONORED

Pittsburgh Officials of the Antione Funeral—Crowd of Five Thousand at Cemetery

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong and other city and county officials, as well as members of 30 local societies, yesterday attended the funeral of Peter Vallone, who lost his life last Monday in the North Side box factory fire after having rescued six girls.

Following funeral services at a downtown undertaking establishment, the body was escorted to Calvary cemetery, where 5000 persons had assembled. A fund is now being raised to erect a monument to his memory.

A tribute to Vallone was paid Saturday at a meeting of the Congress of Women's clubs when the members stood in silence for a minute in honor of the hero.

SUFFRAGISTS' CONFIDENT

LEADERS DECLARED TODAY THAT NEW YORK WOULD GRANT VOTES TO WOMEN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The suffragists of New York state will close their fight for the ballot today with all their campaign machinery running full speed. Leaders declared today that the largest state in the union would grant votes to women.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the Empire state campaign committee, said the suffragists had made a house to house campaign all over the state, and that this was the basis for their declaration that one million women in New York state wanted to vote.

Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, president of the Woman's Political Union said that they expected to overcome a small adverse majority in New York city by success in the state.

The leaders of the women's organizations against suffrage predicted the defeat of the amendment by a large majority. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage and Miss Alice Hill Childenden, president of the New York State Anti-Suffrage association thought New York city would give a majority of 100,000 against the proposition with a much smaller majority outside this city.

Mrs. Dodge announced that they were sure of success in Buffalo, Rochester, Utica, Albany and Watertown.

Suffrage Debate

Sixty automobiles loaded with speakers for suffrage left the Battery this morning for a final effort which will continue until midnight. Ten vans carrying huge signs lettered with suffrage appeals traversed the streets. One of the features of the day was a debate before the Presbyterian Ministers' association between Mrs. Raymond Brown, president of the New York State Woman's Suffrage association and Mrs. Frank Goodwin of Greenwich, Conn. representing the anti-suffragists.

The activity of the campaigners for and against the suffrage amendment has overshadowed the efforts of the male political workers on the question of adopting a new state constitution. All the enrolled democratic voters of New York county received today letters signed by the executive committee of Tammany hall advising them to "spoke your city by voting against the constitution."

Robert S. Birkard, secretary of the committee for the adoption of the constitution said today that he expected the adoption of the constitution by about 7000 majority.

12 HOUR MASS MEETINGS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Women suffragists who are asking the men of Pennsylvania to give the women the right to vote made their final appeal today, more than 20 meetings having been arranged for in different parts of the city.

Extensive twelve hour mass meetings without intermission were in progress in the business district.

Organizations opposed to equal suffrage were also active.

AWAIT VILLA'S ATTACK

Gen. Calles and Carranza Garrison of 7000 Men Ready for Battle at Agua Prieta

DOUGLAS, ARIZ., Nov. 1.—Dawn today disclosed that Gen. Villa's forces had moved closer to Agua Prieta during the night for their expected attack upon the Carranza garrison, commanded by Gen. P. Elias Calles. The night passed without clashes.

Early today United States soldiers began digging trenches well inside the line already constructed. They are so well situated as to control the eastern end of Agua Prieta as well as the adjoining right wing of Villa's army. It was understood these trenches were for emergency use in the event of serious fighting across the border endangering Americans and the possibility of their being compelled to fall back.

Hospital Cleared of Sick

With the hospitals at Agua Prieta cleared of sick and wounded, trenches and underground dressing stations manned, Gen. P. Elias Calles and the Carranza garrison of 7000 men with 10 field pieces and thirty or forty machine guns awaited today Gen. Francisco Villa's attack.

Three motor trucks yesterday brought over to the American side nearly 50 incapacitated soldiers who were shot in previous fights in Sonora and 27 men and women typhoid patients, survivors of a recent epidemic in the Mexican town.

Refugees on Border

Thousands of refugees and women and children come of late from the Mexican garrisons of all classes not legally admissible to the United States waited on the international border for permission to cross and enter a detention camp when the fighting actually begins.

Dawn today showed Villa's troops spread out partly around Agua Prieta in a semi-circle from east to south, about five miles out. General Urbino Lugo, a brother of Carranza, the latter commander of an advance guard which had a skirmish with Carranza troops at Cahuilla, are at points west of Agua Prieta, one in the vicinity of Aravacachi Pass, the other near Naco. Gen. Calles' two secretaries were

Society Women Learn Hair Curling Secret

"If your hair is straight, flat, dull looking, I need not ask if you long to possess perfectly wavy, light, fluffy, glossy tresses," says Gladys Coleman in Society World. "I tell you what to do. Tonight after your hair has had its usual brushing, take a clean tooth brush, dip it in a saucer of pure liquid salicylic acid and run this through the hair from crown to tip. "When morning dawns and you have yawned yourself out of your drowsy coil, you will have a real surprise, quite an agreeable one. Your hair will have a prettier and more natural-looking curl and lustre than it has ever had before—and there will be nothing sticky, sticky, greasy or anything unpleasant about it. If you will get the liquid salicylic acid from your druggist, it will require no preparation at all, and four or five ounces will last for months. This is just the finest thing imaginable for the purpose."

At the old Moody school it was recommended that outside doors be changed to open out and that improved hardware be placed on them. While on all stairways hand rails be built. I am told by Mr. Burnham, the head carpenter, that this will undoubtedly be done before the close of the year.

Conditions at the High school annex are not what they should be, but I have done all that money would let me do. Mr. Carey has recommended an egress on the south side to conform with the state law. In regard to seating capacity, this is the most important change left undone.

At the Varnum school many changes were recommended and every one of them has been done except plastering over the boiler in the old building. And the same is true at the Edison school where there remains to be done plastering and plastering of the boiler.

At the Lincoln school a fire escape on the southeast end of the building from the second floor to the ground will have to be constructed and two new windows to open out like doors will have to be built.

A fire escape on the east end of the boiler school from the second floor to the ground will have to be constructed and two new windows to open out like doors will have to be built.

At the Pawtucket school two fire extinguishers are needed in the hall.

What Has Been Done "I think it only fair that citizens should know what the department has done in the various schools relative to carrying out recommendations made by Inspector Carey of the state police. Briefly, the changes made are:

Highland school: Flush bolts taken from hall doors, cleats in hall for settees, ten outside locks put on doors.

Chelmsford Street Hospital At the Chelmsford street hospital, where Mr. Carey made an inspection, he recommended changes which I in turn recommended to the municipal council, the total cost of which was figured at $235. I was given an appropriation of $1500 to go as far as possible in carrying out these recommendations. The most important things

CITY HALL NEWS

Commissioner Putnam said that all of the recommendations had not been complied with because of the fact that the municipal council did not allow him sufficient money. He asked, he said, for $5000 and was allowed $2000.

"What were considered the most important things," said Mr. Putnam, "have been or are being done. In about all the schools where there are halls we have done what we felt was most necessary, but there still remain changes recommended by the state inspector which it will be impossible to do this year because there is not the money to pay for them."

Remaining undone are the following things urgently recommended by Mr. Carey, the district inspector, earlier in the year and recommended to the municipal council sitting as a committee on appropriations last March: At the Highland school a fire escape on the south end which should run from the second floor to the ground and also the cutting down of windows from this entrance to the fire escape.

At the Morrill school two passages with doors to swing both ways in corridors on first and second floors; the making of entrances on the south side of the building from the first floor to the ground by lowering the windows and putting doors in their places and also the erection of a fire escape from said doors to the ground on both ends of the building.

Mr. Carey recommended 50 feet of new hose in the hall of the new Bartlett school and also the purchase of six fire extinguishers for this hall. Neither have been purchased. At the Green school it was recommended that a door from room to room on the first floor be cut and also on the second floor and that the pipe be changed in its location. In this school also there should be glass partitions over the doors and doors to swing both ways at the foot of the stairs on the southeast side of building on the first two floors. Four new fire extinguishers were recommended, but have not been purchased.

At the old Moody school it was recommended that outside doors be changed to open out and that improved hardware be placed on them. While on all stairways hand rails be built. I am told by Mr. Burnham, the head carpenter, that this will undoubtedly be done before the close of the year.

Conditions at the High school annex are not what they should be, but I have done all that money would let me do. Mr. Carey has recommended an egress on the south side to conform with the state law. In regard to seating capacity, this is the most important change left undone.

At the Varnum school many changes were recommended and every one of them has been done except plastering over the boiler in the old building. And the same is true at the Edison school where there remains to be done plastering and plastering of the boiler.

At the Lincoln school a fire escape on the southeast end of the building from the second floor to the ground will have to be constructed and two new windows to open out like doors will have to be built.

A fire escape on the east end of the boiler school from the second floor to the ground will have to be constructed and two new windows to open out like doors will have to be built.

At the Pawtucket school two fire extinguishers are needed in the hall.

have been done here. Fire escapes have been constructed and windows built to swing out like doors. The one big thing remaining undone is the construction of an additional egress from the cellar dining room and to put this into effect would mean a lot of excavating and cement work.

Everything is in readiness for tomorrow's election and they do tell that the Walsh sentiment is very strong throughout the city. Asked if he had any explanation to make regarding the ballot to be used tomorrow, City Clerk Flynn said: "The ballot is a very simple one and I think it doesn't need any explaining."

But the voter must not forget that the polls will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The boxes will be sent out from city hall at 3 o'clock in readiness for the early voters. Great interest has been manifested in the election and a heavy vote is expected.

Former Commissioner James B. Donnelly has taken out nomination papers for alderman. He was the only new candidate on the list today. There was room to spare at city hall today for the commissioners were away. They went to Boston with Commissioner Carmichael to look at some fire apparatus that Mr. Carmichael has in view.

SYMPTOMS OF DEBILITY People who are tired all of the time and never feel rested even after a long night in bed, who cannot regain weight and strength, whose step lacks elasticity and who feels no joy in living, are debilitated.

A medical examination might easily show that every organ of the body is acting normally but the nature of the face will usually show that the blood is thin. This is the root of the trouble.

Debility is a loss of vitality, not affecting any one part of the body but the system generally. The blood goes to every part of the body and the use of a blood tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly tones up the system. The first sign of returning health is a better appetite, improved digestion, a quicker step, brighter eyes, better color in the cheeks. The rich, red blood, reaching every organ and muscle, carries renewed health and vigor. The nerves are quieted, sleep becomes more refreshing and with persistent treatment and proper living the debilitated patient is once more enabled to enjoy life.

Two useful books, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

First-Class In every business there are two or more classes of workmen: FIRST-CLASS and the OTHER classes. First-class means care, experience and skill. These are the qualities that you find in DR. GAGNON. His services are a GUARANTEE that what work you have done will be done RIGHT.

THE GREAT RALLY

The rally of Friday night was in many respects unique and in every respect a wonderful demonstration of popular confidence in Governor Walsh. As he said in his first remarks when he looked over the assembled thousands who had stood for four hours in the open air to hear him, "It means that a man who serves the people loyally and faithfully and who fights wealth and corporate interests in their behalf can get more than office; he can get the love and affection of the great common people of Massachusetts." None of those who were present and who saw the wonderful enthusiasm with which the governor was greeted or heard the applause at the conclusion of his address can doubt that he has the love and affection of the people of Lowell to a most uncommon degree.

As contrasted with the republican rally held here a short time ago, the rally of Friday night stands out clearly in one respect—its discussion of state issues and live policies. The long list of able speakers who preceded the chief executive took up different phases of the political situation but each spoke of something that is of vital importance to the citizens of this state. There was no manifestation of evasion or indirect attack; when the republicans were exposed names were called and facts were quoted, and there was no disposition to cover up any policy of the state administration by appeals for the support of President Wilson. The few speakers who asked for the re-election of Governor Walsh as an endorsement of the administration did so only after a recital of reforms that proved Governor Walsh worthy of popular support in the fullest measure. Moreover, the pointed questions of the governor to Mr. McCall were such as to contrast in strong relief the campaign waged by both men. Walsh, fighting without wealthy support or machine co-operation is the courageous candidate; McCall with the support of money, selfish organization and "invisible government" is the evasive and negative candidate.

Frederick W. Mansfield made a strong plea for the governor on non-partisan grounds, asking that Governor Walsh be judged by the standards of humanity. He proved from the history of state politics that the democrats have always stood by the workman and have regarded him as something more than a piece of machinery and he proved moreover that no governor has done this to a greater extent than has Governor Walsh. He pleaded for the re-election of Governor Walsh on humanitarian grounds.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald told how the governor has remained in office without the aid of the great interests that are so anxious to get close to the executive chair. He pictured the life of Governor Walsh as a struggle, and of his disposition to lean towards those who in turn are forced to struggle. On the other hand he painted Mr. McCall as the friend of organized capital, the signer of a tariff for which President Taft apologized to the nation, the man who has behind him all the support spurned by Governor Walsh—the interests that are not in politics for the good of the people.

Judge Riley of Malden spoke of another phase of the political fight—and he managed to drive his facts home while the audience laughed heartily responsive to the play of his wit. He reminded his audience of the time when the leading republicans of Massachusetts went under cover, when candidates for office did not dare to say that they were supported by Lodge and Crane. This was in the days of the progressive wave—not very long ago—but now that the republicans have a few faint progressive planks, the old guard is back on the job. His address reminded many of the pleas of Messrs. Brandels and Filene who warn the people of Massachusetts against the revival of Cannonism, Penroseism and the other isms of stand-pat days.

All the speakers "were there with the goods," but Governor Walsh hit the bell every time. Amid scenes of the greatest enthusiasm he told of his work for the people of Massachusetts—his work for taxation reform, for popular education, for the poor and needy. He pledged himself to continue these great movements of popular progress and he asked his main opponent to make a like frank declaration of his intentions. He did not speak to deaf ears when he asked Lowell for its support in order that democracy might triumph over the policies favored by McCall and those who support him so strongly and at such a tremendous cost. Lowell has shown that it is for Governor Walsh and what he represents.

FIRE PREVENTION

Some of the Peabody officials have publicly declared in answer to criticisms of their alleged laxity with regard to the school building approved by them that at present the state laws and the municipal laws conflict, there is one code of regulations for the entire commonwealth and under the administration of the district police, but each community is at liberty to frame its own peculiar regulations. It does not seem that the laws really conflict.

In principle, but if the statement of Peabody officials is correct, there is an apparent lack of cooperation and consequently a lack of efficiency.

If a building is not safe in some particular, the local authorities should have sufficient power to insist on its being made safe without wondering whether or not it should be left to the state police, and if any change requested or ordered by local authorities is for the benefit of the public, the state police should approve. There is a regrettable tendency at present for each group to expect the other to take the initiative, and, after disaster, to blame it on to some technicality in the administration of the law. The public will demand less technicality and more real responsibility vested where it can be easily seen and where an account can be demanded after disaster. Where the functions of the state police and the local authorities conflict there is a great chance for such things as the Peabody conflagration.

The state regulations are very specific as far as they go and the very opening paragraph defining the duties of the district police would indicate that their function is to see that all communities respect the laws of public safety, etc. The regrettable Peabody affair will serve as a test of the law and while it is understood that no one was criminally responsible, there should be a full investigation so that the laws may be made more satisfactory in their purpose and in the method of their enforcement.

GET OUT AND VOTE!

Tomorrow the polls will be open from 6 a. m. until 4 p. m. and it is the duty of every voter who is not incapacitated to go to the polls during that time and cast his ballot for the candidates of his choice. It is no slight duty, and a neglect of it by a great many people would eventually lead to a decline in good government and to a decay of democracy. In no other country in the world do the common people exercise the voting power with such few limitations, and only a citizen who does not realize the importance of the duty could possibly neglect it.

Occasionally one hears a man say that he does not vote as he takes no interest in politics. How does he ever hope to take an interest in politics when he does not try to influence politics? Where is the use of grumbling and criticizing when one is so indifferent that his country or his state call in vain for his service? In Europe the nations are calling upon the men to take up arms and risk their lives in the trenches; here, a great state asks its citizens to give a few minutes of their time at the polls in order that the only real democratic government on earth may be perpetuated. In the light of recent world events let us not regard our duty lightly. Whatever our choice—whether of person or party—let every voter go to the polls and vote conscientiously as a good American citizen.

PLATFORM PIFFLE

Any progressive who votes for the republican party tomorrow, thinking that he is still a progressive, will be easily left. There is no more real progress in the policies of the republican party today than there was in the days of Governor Draper or any of those who preceded him. True, there is a platform with some vague allusions to hours of labor, taxation reform, a budget, etc., but they are left so delightfully non-committal that it will be easy to live up to them. They are something new in a republican platform in any form and they are designed merely as a lure for the wandering boys who went after the progressive banner some time ago. There will be some inconsistent progressives, to be sure, who will fly after Mr. Bird, but no sincere progressive whose faith was more than skin deep will be fooled by the planks that will be used by the voters of Massachusetts to make a coffin for the hopes of McCall and Co.

WATCH THE BALLOT

The result of the primaries was so good in view of increased difficulties in voting that one may expect still better things tomorrow; nevertheless, it is imperative that all voters vote carefully so that their approval is registered where they want it. The list of candidates and of parties is long and it is easy in marking the ballot to place the cross in the wrong space. Only care and patience will ensure accuracy, and all voters should be accurate so that their ballot will figure in the grand total. It is well, too, that every voter read the instructions that are on each ballot and observe the party designations after the name of each candidate. Except in cases of gross illiteracy there is little excuse for the voter who so votes that his ballot is counted as a blank.

A special word in behalf of Governor Walsh. His record and his personality should appeal to every voter of Lowell for he is the embodiment of the spirit of Lowell—the spirit of industry, courage and devotion to plain duty. His record has been long and open and it has been almost wholly blameless. Being human, he may have erred in small matters, but no governor has ever come before the people for re-election with greater claims to popular consideration. He has been the type of governor that republican and progressive can support without a sacrifice of principle, and he deserves the heaviest vote that Lowell has ever cast for governor.

SEEN AND HEARD

Women, as a rule, are more graceful than men. Men are more disgraceful.

Queer, isn't it, that the man who is suffering from a big head generally has a small mind.

Your judgment as to whether a man is excusable or not cannot always be depended upon, if you are the man.

The difference between persistence and obstinacy is whether it is you or the other fellow.

It is a foregone Yankee who says that the latest winter he ever knew in New England was one that he spent in Florida.

Queer, isn't it, that when almost everybody is talking about hard times, nobody seems to be particularly interested in your hard times.

Don't be so foolish when you catch a big pickerel as to throw it overboard just because you are fishing for bass.

The police court judge must have to exercise self-control when people say to him: "Your work must be very trying."

It is all right for a man who has done a good job to take a certain amount of satisfaction in it, but he ought not to spend his time talking about it for a week.

When an accused man asks the public to suspend judgment on his case the public may try to do it, but it feels pretty confident how things are coming out.

Even though your ancestors came over in the Mayflower, you may not have so big a bank account as the people next door who came over in the Lusitania.

With the exception of the obelisk in New York's Central park, this country has no hieroglyphics on its monuments, but physicians' prescriptions are handed in at the drugstores every day.

Deepest Well in the World
The deepest well in the world is in a coal field in Germany. It is 7350 feet deep. The second deepest well is in the United States, 16 miles west of Pittsburgh. It is 7174 feet deep.

Four other wells in the United States are each more than a mile deep. One of the most interesting wells in the world is in western China. It is 3600 feet deep and was drilled for petroleum with a cable made of strands of rattan.

Strong on the Come Back

In a recent discussion concerning which poet had produced the best war poems in modern times the palm was easily awarded to Rudyard Kipling.

The famous author's wit is proverbial, and he relates a laughable story about a courting couple in "The good old days." One evening a stern father came rather hurriedly into the parlor and was much shocked to see his daughter and her "young man" occupying the same chair.

"Sir," he said, shaking his head solemnly, "when I was courting my wife, she sat on one side of the room and I sat on the other."

"Well," replied the suitor, not in the least abashed, "that's what I should have done if I had been courting your wife!"

Not Lion's Meat

Unlike many professional muscle-men, Paderewski, who has been working so hard for the relief of Poland lately, has a great dislike to being "lionized" and his greatest aversion is the gushing admirer who tries to push him or herself forward.

On one occasion he was introduced to a lady worshiper who was evidently overwhelmed at making his acquaintance.

"I have an interesting souvenir of you, Mr. Paderewski," she said, "I visited your dressing room at the concert hall the other day, and found this on the floor. She, I have had it mounted."

So saying, she showed him a date stone, set in fine gold, with an engraved inscription.

"Alas!" replied the great pianist, coldly, "I regret to tell you that I never eat dates. I am afraid that the stone was left there by the scrub-woman."

Then it was that the lady hastened to change the subject.

Autumn Leaves

They wandered through the forest paths
Beneath the glorious trees, Whose foliage, brilliant-hued, was surreal.

By every passing breeze,
The brilliant leaves came fluttering down.

And landed at their feet—
They were two lovers, and love made
Their happiness complete.

He watched her gather bright-hued leaves,
Yellow, and brown, and red,
And helped her find the choicest ones,
And then at last he said:

"These brilliant leaves are beautiful,
You say you want them pressed?
Just put them underneath your belt,
And I will do the rest."

SUNDAY AMBULANCE CALLS

Two ambulance calls to 22 Merrill street were responded to between 2:30 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. On answering the first call, the ambulance physician found a woman named Mrs. McDonald suffering from wounds on her forehead and body. She claimed to have been pushed down a flight of stairs, and was taken to St. John's hospital for treatment. A few minutes after returning to headquarters the ambulance was again called to the same house where Mrs. Nellie Malone was suffering from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid. She was removed to the Chelmsford street hospital.

James J. Whalen was taken to St. John's hospital Saturday night with an ugly scalp wound sustained when he fell down a flight of stairs at 49 Hard street.

AS RUSSIAN CHANCELLOR

PREMIER JEAN GOREMYKIN SOON TO CONTROL FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF EMPIRE

LONDON, Nov. 1.—It is understood that Premier Jean Goremykin of Russia is soon to be appointed chancellor of the empire with supreme control of foreign affairs. A Reuter despatch from Petrograd states:

His appointment would make him the 12th Russian to hold such a position, the first having been Chancellor Golovnin, appointed by Peter the Great in 1700, and the last Prince Gortchakoff, who died in 1883.

The Bourse Gazette says that M. Goremykin's coadjutor will be M. N. Shebeko, formerly Russian ambassador at Vienna. The newspaper adds it is reported that Emperor Nicholas has accepted the resignations of Sergius Sazonoff, minister of foreign affairs; M. Krivosheina, minister of agriculture; and M. Khartolov, controller of the treasury. Alexei Khvostoff, minister of justice, will become premier, the Gazette declares.

DOUBLE MILITIA BUDGET

GARRISON EXPLAINS DEFENSE PROGRAM—CONTINENTAL ARMY OPEN TO ALL NATIONAL GUARD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Practically doubled federal appropriations for the state militia and opening of the proposed continental army to any organization or individual in the national guard desiring to enter and free to do so are contemplated in the army side of the administration's national defense program.

Details of the provisions to be made for the militia were made public for the first time in a statement issued yesterday by Secretary Garrison, commenting upon the conferences held at the war department during the past week by the executive committee of the National Guard association.

Although opposition to the continental army has been expressed at first by some of the national guard officers, when the conferences closed it was announced that a mutual viewpoint had been reached.

"The bill (the national guard), said Mr. Garrison's statement, during all the time when there was practically no interest in this country concerning military matters, has been working, insofar as constitutional and other limitations would permit them, to work, to do whatever they could do to improve the military situation of this country. They are absolutely entitled, by virtue of this fact, to full and proper recognition in any military system or policy to be proposed by the war department.

"In my proposition the membership of the national guard is offered alternatives based upon this full recognition and meeting every proper point of view with respect to their relationship to the matter of military policy."

"In other words, I propose that any and every organization of the national guard that is free to do so, insofar as its state obligations are concerned, may come over into the national force intact and be accorded exactly the same position therein that it now holds."

"Any individual who prefers the intensive training and other features of the national force will likewise be admitted therein, rank for rank, and grade for grade."

"I indicated my entire willingness and desire, in all propositions made by me, to so circumscribe the membership of the national guard with respect to the national force as to give it full recognition."

"With respect to the national guard in the states, the plan not only contemplates continuing the financial and personal aid on behalf of the national government, but largely increases the same, practically doubling it the next fiscal year."

FOR WEST CENTRALVILLE

BUSINESS MEN OF THAT DISTRICT ARE TO ORGANIZE FOR MUTUAL BENEFIT

A meeting of the business men of West Centralville will be held at the home of the Centralville Social club Tuesday evening for the purpose of forming a business men's improvement association. Several of the merchants of the district are deeply interested in the movement and they hope the plan for the new organization will be carried out successfully.

The project of starting a business men's association was started by H. W. Allard, shoe dealer and several of the other merchants including Hon. John T. Sparks, Anthony A. Walsh, E. S. Desmarais, Avila Desrosiers and several others are helping to bring the matter to maturity.

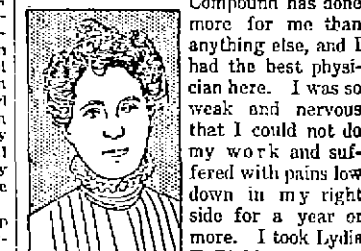

If the organization is formed as the promoters of the affair have hoped it will, it is being planned to erect a very large sign on one of the high buildings of the district, this sign to be known as the West Centralville business directory. This will be a sort of an ornamental sign carrying the names and addresses of all the members of the association as well as the kind of business they are conducting. The sign will be artistically arranged and will be illuminated by electricity and it is believed once erected it will attract the attention of the residents of all parts of the city.

The meeting Tuesday evening will be held at 8 o'clock and the purpose of the gathering will be explained by John T. Sparks. Then the association will be given a name and officers will be elected. The purpose of the association will be to boost business in the district and also to wake up if possible the city council and have them do a few much needed improvements of the locality. The merchants feel that they could easily have and are entitled to better streets in the district and it is possible that within a few days Commissioner Morse will be invited to take a ride over the rough pavements of Lakeview avenue and end out for himself the bad condition of this important thoroughfare. There are many other improvements needed in West Centralville and the merchants feel the only way to get them is by organizing.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

PLAIN TALK TO CITIZENS

Mr. Guy D. Gold Tells About Some of the Shortcomings of Americans

"Americanization and Naturalization" was the subject of an interesting address by Mr. Guy D. Gold at the Grace church public forum Sunday night. Mr. Gold is a specialist in immigration. He said it is not only the man seeking American citizenship through the naturalization channel that is a little shy on knowledge as to the government and the management of it. "Stop any 20 men in Lowell, native born American citizens of any age," he said, "and ask them to name the members of the United States supreme court, and they cannot tell you; yet that is the sort of thing we are asking of all these people that come to us from foreign shores, and rightly we ask them. I demand of every American who is going to exercise the rights of his citizenship, the same knowledge. Citizenship in the United States should come relatively easy; but the exercise of the rights of citizenship should become harder and harder to acquire until such time as only those who are permitted to exercise them who will exercise them to the good of this country."

The responsibility is on you. President Wilson is right. The time has come when we need, as citizens of the United States of America, to challenge everyone. Where do you stand? Are you for us or against us? To be for us means to stand by the principles of America, no matter what it costs the country from which we have come; to be for the United States, not right or wrong, but for the United States to make her right. Now many of us are really with the United States of America in this great world crisis. How many are so sympathetic with one or the other of the great contending powers, that we are willing to sacrifice our American principles? The time has come for us to make an alignment, not only for our present needs, but for our future. We are today in a very big crisis. England is practically the only European country which definitely and clearly recognizes the right of expansion. The time has come when the United States of America must assert its right. If anyone chooses to leave the United States and become a citizen of any other country, we say good-bye. We say, American citizenship is yours by right, we care not where you were born, we welcome you, and we will protect our naturalized citizens just as we protect the native born in any country under the sun."

Mr. Gold advocated holding annual meetings in every city of a social nature, free from party politics or sectarianism, but for the purpose of impressing upon the newly made American citizen, that we welcome him because of what he gives us, as well as for what we have the privilege to give to him.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

"The Family Cupboard," one of the biggest dramatic sensations that the world has ever known, is the splendid bill offered by the Emerson players at the Opera House this week and of all the plays that have been produced on the American stage in the past twenty years, there are few which have scored such success. It is more gripping and thrilling than "Within the Law" or "Bought and Paid For" and presented as it is by the Emerson players, the Opera House should be taxed to its utmost capacity at every afternoon and evening performance.

"The Family Cupboard" has been secured for one week only, by special arrangement with William A. Brady. This play has a punch. It is a drama of contemporary things, dealing with a phase of modern domestic life. It tells the story of the Nelson family. The husband and wife drift apart when they have been able to make money. Their son, disgruntled because of the conditions existing at home, hears of his father's mode of living and upbraids him. It is around this that the whole play revolves. It shows the consequences that are sure to follow when money replaces love in the home and the husband seeks elsewhere for the devotion he does not receive from his wife. It is a dramatic landslide.

The play is wonderfully produced by the Emerson players. All the characters appear in the cast, headed by Ann O'Day as Kitty Claire and Homer Barton as Kenneth Nelson. Joe Crehan, Nora Booth, Walter von Bockman, Dore Goodwin, Clara Sidney,

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, suffers and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know it is given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Richard Barry, Frank Wright, Forrest Gordon, Cecil Heights, and others play their respective characters wonderfully and really offer a $2 production.

The production of "The Family Cupboard" is a scenic and electrical equipment in a whole. The settings are magnificent and the properties and accessories used are entirely new and different from everything that the theatregoers of Lowell have ever seen. For the past ten days, the entire stage crew have been at work on the production to make it one of the greatest successes ever achieved in theatricals in Lowell.

The finished productions of the Emerson players on Mondays and Tuesdays as well as the latter part of the week is one of the big features of this splendid aggregation of stock stars. Mediocre companies are usually lax in their first performances and difficulties arise but such is not the case of the Emerson players. On Monday afternoon the same gilt edged performance is given as on Saturday as the company is the best in New England. The wonderful system of the Emerson players, the quick work of the stage hands in making the changes and the general work is a revelation to the theatregoers of this city.

Since the opening of the season, hundreds have been turned away each week, because they have been unable to secure seats. To avoid this, patrons should reserve their seats early and arrange to come as early in the week as possible.

Make your reservations now. Phone 261. The box office is open daily from 5 a. m. to 10 p. m. You can't afford to miss this play. Get your seats early. Get your seats early.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Odina, the beautiful Samoan pearl diver, who appears at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, has an act which, for absolute novelty, is alone among the recent sensations of the varieties. It is true that there have been displayed various phases of natural feats. These, however, have been, without exception, confined to convulsions, contortions, and stunts in various positions. They have exploited swimmers and divers in various undertakings. But Odina's performance is a revelation to the theatregoers of this city.

The stage setting discloses a purling stream flowing through a woodland path, when she approaches the brink of a mirror-like surface. She then plunges into this tiny lake and disappears completely from view. On emerging from the lake she is seen to have divested herself entirely of the garments she had previously worn. She is now clad in the attire of the swimmer. After this she displays her trained seals. Altogether she carries a vast amount of baggage for her act, and, after seeing it, one is certain that no ordinary amount would suffice. Trained sea lions, which were obtained in the Pacific ocean, assist her in her work. This is the first time, it is believed, that any swimmer has ever entered the water with the seals. And everything the seals do Odina imitates. Some there are who have called her the "human seal." But she is far more than that. She represents the very acme of grace and beauty of line and curve. Her swimming movements, by breaks or sudden movements. Every act she does has that self same grace which characterizes the pretty fish propelling itself through the water. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings swimming contests will be held in conjunction with Odina's act. On Tuesday evening the boys and girls will be given a chance to compete, while adults will compete for prizes.

Charles A. Mack & Co. will produce a new Irish skit, which ought to prove most interesting. Mr. Mack has been here on several occasions, the last time in "Come Back to Erin," which has been rated as one of the prettiest of Irish comedies. His new act is called "The Friendly Call" and in it Mr. Mack will play the part of "Col. Connolly," and Rita Bastedo will play the part of his daughter. Charles B. Nelson will do the character of "Mike Donovan."

Lulu Coates and her three colored "Crackerjacks" will create a little diversion all their own. Miss Coates is an exceptionally well qualified singer, an expert dancing comedienne, and she keeps her three young assistants on the jump all of the time. Acrobatically, this act will prove to be most interesting.

Daniels and Conrad are two boy prodigies, one playing the violin and the other the piano. Their program gives some idea of their ability. Their first number will be the Meditation from "Thais," by Massenet, while the second will be the "Overtures" by Wieniawski. A paraphrase of the familiar "Annie Laurie" will next be given, and the close will be movements from the Fantasia Appassionata by Beethoven.

The Four Charles are comedy and novelty jugglers, who close in a most unusual scene. Bernard and Meyers will give a "ratty scene" of unusualness, and Lew Fitzgibbon, the king of the xylophone, will play several numbers. In addition to this there will

Gov. Walsh and Mr. McCall Issue Statements

Gov. David I. Walsh and Hon. Samuel W. McCall, in statements issued last night, expressed confidence in the outcome of tomorrow's election.

Gov. Walsh said: "I am going to be elected governor of Massachusetts tomorrow by a plurality of not less than 20,000 and possibly as high as 35,000 votes."

Mr. McCall said: "I feel confident of a great republican victory on Tuesday. In 10 years there has not been witnessed such enthusiasm among republicans in Massachusetts."

Chairman O'Leary of the democratic state committee says Gov. Walsh will be re-elected by 30,000 plurality.

Chairman Baldwin of the progressive state committee predicts surprising vote for Clark as possible dark horse.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Blanche Ring, the celebrated comedienne, who is one of the stars recently coaxed into the motion picture world is the headliner on the bill at the Merrimack Square theatre for tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday. She will make her screen debut on the Paramount program in the five act play, "The Yankee Girl," adapted for the screen from the play of the same name in which she won a splendid triumph several years ago. The finalization of this play reserves all the best of her theatrical situations which were contained in the original production and wonderful scenes are shown in the screen production which were impossible in the former—such as the wonderful marine scenes taken at the world famous Catalina Islands, and the bacchanal scenes taken at the Perolsituated on the seventh floor of the Sun building, now consist of four rooms, the former number being three. The new room which has been added will be used as a workroom for the many expert dressmakers which Miss Ouellette employs to embody into the clothes of her patrons her original and clever ideas on women's dress. With the increase in the number of her customers and the corresponding increase in orders for fashionable attire, Miss Ouellette has for some time felt the need of enlarging her establishment, but it was not until now that she was able to secure this extra room which adjoins her other rooms. Entering room 701, the visitors finds herself in the handsomely appointed reception room, through which she passes to the well arranged fitting room; and leading off from this are the two workrooms for her large number of dressmakers, whose number has been augmented since the establishment has been enlarged.

It is Miss Ouellette's intention to carry even a larger stock of the latest styles in ladies' hosiery, in a greater variety than formerly.

Miss Ouellette invites old and new customers to visit her enlarged establishment, assuring them of even better service than has characterized her shop previous to its latest expansion.

Miss Ouellette's success, like that of the other numerous tenants who have availed themselves of the opportunity to locate in the absolutely fireproof Sun building, with its unexcelled conveniences, is an example of a well conducted establishment ideally located.

and Sanchez ranch house, a landmark 150 years old half-way between Los Angeles and San Gabriel and one of the historic taverns of the Mission days. Miss Ring wears some stunning frocks in "The Yankee Girl," and while she is positively bewitching in her bathing suit, it is the three evening gowns which deserve more than casual praise. The theme of the play concerns the race of two men in obtaining some important copper concessions, and while the principals of the play are in dead earnest and go to great lengths to accomplish their designs, much delightful humor is cleverly introduced into the action of the play to cause the audience to burst into expressions of merriment.

The 9th episode of the adventures of Neal and Annette in the "Book of the Navy" serial will also be shown in two acts at this theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday. It need scarcely be said that this serial is growing in popularity each week that it is shown. The reason for it is that the intrigues of the schemers are getting blacker and deeper. "Scrambling comedy" and "The Navy" are also included in the list of features for the first half of this week. The amateurs will contribute to the enjoyment of the evening tomorrow night, offering their latest laugh-producers. Geraldine Farror will be seen here on the last three days of this week in her screen debut, "Carmen."

JEWEL THEATRE
Many Mutual master pictures have been shown at the Jewel theatre during the last few months, but none equal "The Reward," which will be shown at this theatre today and tomorrow. Miss Bessie Barriscale, the celebrated stage star, who is acting exclusively for Thomas L. Jace, is seen in the leading part of that production, a four-act feature of unusual merit. A select cast aids Miss Barriscale for this play, and a production of universal appeal has been added to movie land. If you like a good, clean story, well acted and wonderfully produced, this is just the kind of a play that you will be interested in. "The Reward." And in addition to this masterpiece, a two-act Keystone comedy with "Fatty" Arbuckle and an all-star Keystone cast will be offered on the same program. In connection with many other new and two-reel productions. On Tuesday night the amateurs will again make their appearance. Many new acts have been secured, and the barrel of fun will be overflowing this time. Same prices for all these specialties. Your move—go to the Jewel.

OWL THEATRE
Emmy Wehlen, the dainty Viennese actress and stage star, will be featured at the Owl theatre today and tomorrow in the great five act gripping Metro photodrama, "Tables Turned." This emotional film tells the story of a law student and a beautiful young girl. He, realizing that his folks will not tolerate her as his wife, plans a mock ceremony. Several months later, his parents make arrangements for his marriage to the daughter of wealthy friends, so he decides to break off his affair with the girl whom he had deceived.

Broken-hearted, the girl notifies an old friend of both her and the student of the condition of things and he hurries east. He then tells the girl that the ceremony was performed, not by an impersonator, but by a real minister, and the student, hearing this and feeling the charge, hurries, comes, eludes, and the girl and the western lawyer are happily married. Miss Wehlen portrays the part of the young girl in this film and she has many opportunities to display her great emotional ability.

A three part Mutual feature will also be shown at the Owl today and tomorrow together with four other excellent photoplays.

ROYAL THEATRE
"The Spender," a Gold Rooster feature picture, is the attraction at the Royal theatre for today and tomorrow. It is very evident that these films are here to stay as the crowds that attend the Royal on the days upon which they are presented testify to their popularity. The offering this week is one of the most thrilling ever seen at this theatre and its six reels are chock full of thrills including a great riot scene and others.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Mary Fuller, one of the greatest stars in the silent drama today, will be seen in a superb dramatization of the famous novel "Under Southern Skies."

THE ART OF WEARING JEWELRY

For wear on formal occasions, whether at home or in public places at dinner, ball or opera, gowns and jewels must be the finest obtainable. Already gorgeous in themselves, the latest evening gowns are given a final touch of sumptuousness by the elaborate and exceptionally handsome jewelry which have been designed as a fitting accompaniment. It would seem that the last word in magnificent costume had been said in this fall's gowns and jewelry designs, so superb are they each in their own way.

A wondrous assemblage of materials has been used in the makeup of the gowns and a wealth of trimmings has been lavished upon them, while the jewels make an endless array of gorgeous splendor. Combined, the new gowns and jewels will give a richness of effect unsurpassed in any age of splendid costume.

The charity bazaar held in Newport early in the year foretold what the future held in wealth of gorgeous colored silks, satins, velvets and chiffons, and the succeeding shows, fetes and pageants have augmented the long list.

For wear at the formal dinner the gowning does not differ from home affairs or for public dinners; the most stately gown and the finest jewelry are called for. The point to bear in mind, though, is this—that both gown and jewels are to make their mark and gain their effect at close range. The person on your right, the person on your left and the diners directly opposite you are to be your direct critics, and a most exacting audience they will make. Fine laces, patterned materials and minute jewelry designs will hold their own at the dining table, where flat colors and bold patterns would be too glaring and noisy, and the smaller figures and more delicate details can be used here, whereas in the ballroom they would be lost and count for nothing at all against broad splashes of color and coarse trimmings.

All-lace gowns are among the favorite dinner costumes always, and the fine soft mesh of delicate laces makes an excellent background for handsome jewels to rest against. The lacy collar and narrower collar, the necklaces, earrings, finger rings and bracelets are chosen with regard to their individual artistic value as well as for their place in the total ensemble, and no detail can be too fine to overlook.

White lace over deep cream chiffon is splendid with pearls and emeralds, sapphires or rubies. The tulle gown in the second illustration gives an idea of what can be done in pearl tints and cream colors. A lace gown that is splendid with pearls and diamonds is in black lace over white, and the all-black lace gown is regal with diamonds and emeralds.

Metal laces come in tones of bronze, brown, green, gold and silver and gray; and emeralds, again, are superb with these. Rubies were used with one of the most exquisite dinner gowns devised this fall. It was in deep red velvet, with shoulder draperies of bronze metal tulle, and the jewels wore a mass of small rubies, with a golden tanzanite in the midst of the rubies in the pendant at the neck.

The illustration shows another handsome gown with its quota of fine jewels. The corsage is in a ribbon and bowknot design, its many diamonds carrying out a delicately wrought pattern of flexible rows, groups, tassels and fringes.

Jewels in the Ballroom

So many great functions are planned for the coming winter, either for charity as the incentive or for private entertaining at the country estates that the matter of appropriate jewelry with variety as the keynote, will be particularly interesting. Numbers of balls are being arranged with playlets, pantomimes or professional dancing beforehand, or starting with a bal masque and the gowns and jewels for these will run a riot of grandeur and color.

The wide open space in a ballroom gives excuse for bold patternings in gown materials, striking jewels and brilliant colors, and the whirl and movement of the dancing provides a reason for large splashes of plain color that will commingle with all the other tints, tones and colors in the room.

Formal, periodicals, emeralds and sapphires are combined in one set of handsome jewels especially designed for use in a large hall and among many moving figures. They may be worn with any of the new yellow or green toned gowns, or with those that are many in great varieties of combinations. Green and emerald, champagne and bronze, blue and buff will all blend with this unusually colorful set of jewels.

The sleeveless gown of the ballroom, with its sheer and tulle top and voluminous, fur-trimmed skirt, makes an excellent foil for rubies, emeralds and sapphires. The color of the gown may be reflected by the colored gems used as the dominating note. In this way stripes in all and every color will be most effective when topped with gems of a darker hue, as, for instance, pink and white stripes with rubies, emeralds and sapphires, yellow and cream with topazes. Stripes are exceedingly good on the dance floor, and the new all-plaited skirt in alternate stripes of a dark and a pale blue tone, with each stripe graduating from a full breadth at the skirt's hem to a narrow point at the hips or waist line, can be perfectly completed if the net waist is decorated with a full set of jewels mounted with colored gems.

JEWELERS' MEETING

LADY LOOKABOUT

One the eve of an election involving an issue of such magnitude that it is not confined by party lines, and in the outcome of which each man and woman in the state is interested, even though in some instances indifferent as to which side proves victorious at the polls, much cleverness and literature has been put into circulation with a view to discounting the work of a splendid campaign. The Massachusetts anti-suffrage committee within a few days has issued to the voters of the state a formidable appearing book of 60 pages in which woman suffrage is indicted, and according to the standards of the committee, the case is proved, and yet not one word from the defendant is admitted.

On the front cover appears this quotation accredited to Thomas Jefferson: "Nature has marked the weaker sex for protection rather than the direction of government."

In considering this sentiment from the most democratic of presidents, slight must not be lost of the fact that Thomas Jefferson lived a century and a half ago and expressed the sentiment of that period, a period in which woman was absolutely dependent for support upon the male members of her family. There was no employment outside the home for her, circumstances, long since changed, marked her for protection. Later generations have seen the home invaded by the commercial spirit of the age. Spinning, weaving, tailoring, cooking, laundry work have become the industries of the day, but outside the home rather than in it, and women robbed of their home employment have pursued it portico, out into the world, and now they work with men under the same conditions as men, and amenable to the same laws with men. If equality of law-breaking, they are punished just as though they were men. In short, the statutes recognize no sex distinction. Naturally as time went on and these truths were forced upon women, she began to feel that she as well as man should have a voice in making the laws which she was compelled to obey. She does not promise to correct the evils of politics, in fact she does not promise or threaten anything. Any more than does the young man, who on attaining his majority, becomes a part of the electorate. She simply asks for that which is her right exactly as much as it is man's.

The one anti argument which seems to have caught the popular fancy is that the basis of government is physical force. This may be true in a narrow sense, but it must be admitted that warfare does not consist alone in the firing of guns and the killing of enemies. In times of stress women have ever borne the burden of the nation with a fortitude rivalling that of man. So long has been the work of binding up wounds, providing for the physical needs of the soldier, and therefore making it possible for him to remain in the ranks, that even the most skeptical must admit with Solomon that the race is not always to the swift nor the battle to the strong. A very positive and in defending his position, urges his audience to consider the mother of Abraham Lincoln—"she never heard of suffrage—she possessed little or no education, yet she gave to this republic one of the choicest and master spirits of modern times," and he should have added, "who firmly believed that the franchise should be extended to women."

Taken by and large, suffrage is a problem, which, given the facts, each voter must solve for himself. Only so far as his own good judgment dictates should he permit himself to be swayed by street corner agitators of whatever view, for a far-reaching issue is bound to create a number of extreme radicals and extreme conservatives, but always the elector may be sure that between these two extremes there is that great body of solid, sober-minded persons of both sexes who may be depended upon at all times to direct able and efficiently the ship of state, and who are ever, in the truest sense of the word, "the people."

HEADACHES KILL BEAUTY

Headaches are a foe to beauty that must be most carefully guarded against, even though the long train of beauty ills following in their wake, is usually ascribed to other causes. A dry, seamy skin, dull lifeless eyes, lack of color, an unbecoming expression, and what is almost more to be deplored than anything else, wrinkles, may all be caused by headaches.

If you have been out in the country on a long tramp and, feeling particularly virtuous because you have been doing something for your health, it is annoying to suddenly find your head aching with a most unbearable throbbing. However, this kind of headache is very easily remedied.

Your shoes are unquestionably to blame.

If the heel is too high or too narrow, or the sole is not broad enough, you will not only strain the muscles of your feet, but throw out of balance all the internal organs of the body. Of course, the sure cure for this form of headache is to wear proper shoes. Strip off your stockings and bathe your feet in hot water in which two spoonfuls of some invigorating, bath powder has been dissolved.

Don't forget that your diet has a great deal to do with your clearness of head, and no amount of foot baths or massages will overcome an upset stomach and its inevitable revenge—a headache.

THE FRENCH MAID SAYS:

ABOUT THE WEARING OF FLOWERS

"Oh, dear, flowers do wilt so fast. Every time I wear a bouquet it gets faded and bedraggled before I can get time to see it," sighed Marjorie, as she sank into a chair in her aunt's boudoir.

"Don't try always to wear fresh flowers," advised Marjorie. "You can buy or make some equally as pretty and that will always look fresh and attractive. Indeed, it is quite the thing now to wear corsage bouquets of artificial flowers. They are very easy to make, and the very prettiest ones are fashioned out of silk or velvet taken from the scrap bag."

The corsage bouquet, consisting of a single flower of generous size, is made by first cutting a paper pattern, resembling the petals of a flower you wish to form, to use for a guide when cutting the silk. For instance, a poppy of scarlet satin is charming for a frock of dark blue or black. Cut the number of petals required and run a thin hair-like wire about the edge. Bind it with a narrow bias fold of the satin. Join them together and center the flower with stamens which can be purchased at any artificial flower store.

"The pond lily is another flower which is worn with many evening gowns. It is used as a corsage, ornament, or to catch up the skirt draperies, and is made of white satin. Remnants of silk or satin can be purchased at much reduced prices, and the smallest pieces are enough to fashion these charming flowers. The petals of pond lilies are pointed. For each petal cut two sections from the silk, stitching them together on the wrong side, turn them and cluster the rows of petals together to resemble the natural flower. Fill the center with yellow stamens and the blossom is ready for your use."

A favorite corsage ornament is the cluster of small roses made by folding strips of silk, gauze or satin over a padded center. The strips vary in width according to the size of the rose and is cut on the bias. The two edges are then folded together and sewn about the center formed by covering a piece of cotton with the silk. Each rose is then fastened to a wire stem, about which narrow, green ribbon is wrapped. Six or eight of the flowers are required for the cluster.

THREW BODY INTO STREAM

Man Killed by Speeding Auto—Body Dragged 20 Feet and Hurlled Into Pond

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Nov. 1.—William McFadden, aged 38, living on Scotland street, was struck and killed by an automobile near Skim Milk bridge, on the Raynham road, soon after 2 yesterday afternoon.

Then his body was dragged from the roadside and thrown in the stream running under the bridge.

Every effort has been made to trace the large red touring car said to be responsible for the accident, but the dragnet thrown out in the surrounding towns has not been productive of results. The body was found about an hour after the accident.

Mr. McFadden left his home soon after noon, and was walking in the direction of Cocheasset, on the swamp road. From the evidence at hand, he was struck by the car near the bridge and hurled violently to the roadside.

Medical Examiner Paine said that the machine must have been making good speed for McFadden was thrown 15 feet, striking against the fence and a tree near the roadside.

The body was dragged a distance of about 20 feet from where the pool of blood was found and dropped into the stream passing under the road. The water is shallow at that spot, and when discovered the body was near the shore, the clothing badly torn and covered with mud.

An attempt had been made to obliterate the bloodstains in the road for some distance had been thrown loosely over the spot where the body fell.

The medical examiner said that the impact must have been terrific, for the particles of the brain had been left on the fence and tree. After the body had been dragged to the waterway the automobile sped in the direction of West Bridgewater and trace of it was lost.

The body was discovered by Calvin Pratt of Taunton, who came from Raynham through the Hookamock swamp road. His attention was attracted to the pool of blood in the street and he stopped his car to investigate.

He saw the body in the water, partially submerged, and without waiting to investigate further, returned to Raynham and telephoned the Taunton police. They said that they had not jurisdiction in the case and informed him that he should get in touch with the West Bridgewater authorities, and this he did.

Edward L. Partridge, living on Scotland street, a short distance from the scene of the affair, was walking over the bridge about an hour after the accident and saw the body in the stream. He telephoned to Brockton and Inspector from the police department in that city were despatched to the scene. They returned when it was found that the accident was in West Bridgewater.

Policemen Henry O. Davenport and W. L. Woodworth of the local force took charge of the case and as soon as they found out that a large red touring car figured in the affair they sent word to the police in the towns about, asking them to hold up cars answering that general description and question the drivers.

HONORED DEAD

Fully 5000 Joined C. M. A. C. at Memorial at St. Joseph's Cemetery

Over 5000 people, men, women and children went to St. Joseph's cemetery yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual memorial of the C.M.A.C. for its deceased members. The weather was ideal for such a trip and the ceremonies, which included a sermon by Rev. Augustin Graton, O.M.I., the chanting of the Libera and the firing of volleys over the graves of the deceased Ollate fathers, and over that of the first captain of Garde d'Honneur, a branch of the C.M.A.C., the late Moise Cossette.

Numerous automobiles and carriages conveyed the parishioners to the cemetery, while the Bay State Street Ry. Co. operated 16 special cars from Myrick square to the corner of Gorham and Centre streets.

At 1 o'clock the members of the C.M.A.C. with the semi-military guards of the city gathered at the headquarters of the association in Pawtucket street and at 1:30 o'clock marched to St. Joseph's church in Lee street. Aurelien Simard acted as marshal and the master of the procession was as follows:

A. G. Cadets' Brass band, under the leadership of Frank Lapointe; Zouaves of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish; Capt. Alde Souley; Zouaves of St. Louis parish; Capt. Rodolphe Asselin; two companies of A. G. Cadets; Capt. Balleffille and Capt. Rondau; captains of the Angel Guardian society and their chaplain, Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O.M.I.; Garde St. Louis, Capt. Alfred Grenier; Capt. Sacre-Coeur, Capt. H. G. Deslites; Garde Frontenac, Capt. Albert Bergeron; Garde d'Honneur, Capt. Nelson Phillips; American flag and banners of the C.M.A.C., members of the association, headed by Emily Racette.

At 2 o'clock a Libera was chanted at St. Joseph's church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O.M.I., chaplain of the association. The choir was under the direction of Telesphore Mado with Mrs. J. A. Bernard at the organ. The solos of the Libera were rendered by T. H. Brassard. At the close of the ceremony the band played a selection and then the line formed again and marched to John street, where special cars were boarded for the cemetery.

At the corner of Gorham and Centre streets the line again formed and the large congregation proceeded to the cemetery to the strain of Chopin's funeral march played by the band. Upon reaching the graves the large gathering assembled around a temporary platform erected for the occasion near the grave of the late Rev. Andre M. Garin, O.M.I., and Rev. Augustin Graton, O.M.I., delivered his sermon, his subject being "The Cemetery."

The preacher gave a proper definition of the word "cemetery" saying it was a place of rest for the deceased and not a place of amusement. He urged his listeners to frequent the cemetery often and pray for the dead. He reminded the gathering that most of them have a mother, a father, sisters and brothers lying in the grave and he said they may be constantly asking for a prayer. At the close of the sermon a Libera was chanted by double quartet from St. Joseph's church under the direction of Telesphore Mado, the solos being sustained by Olier J. David, choirmaster of St. Louis church, while Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O.M.I., officiated.

When the religious service was brought to a close a firing squad from Garde d'Honneur fired three volleys over the graves of the Ollate fathers and then the gathering retired to the grave of the late Moise Cossette, where taps was sounded by Frank Lapointe and Arthur Goulet of the A. G. Cadets Brass band, and three volleys fired.

The procession again formed and those in line marched to the cars. The committee in charge of the memorial was as follows: Louis St. Jean, chairman; Aurelien Simard, secretary-treasurer; Edmond Matte, Joseph Elie, Ladger Ouellette and Arthur St. Hilaire, ex-officio.

BLACKSMITHS' MEETING

CANDIDATES HEAR CRITICISM FROM FRANK WARNOCK—MAYOR AND PALMER SPEAK

The open meeting conducted by the blacksmiths of the city Saturday evening in Leatherworkers hall, 233 Central street, was a highly successful and enjoyable affair. The hall was filled to overflowing and following the program, which included several speakers and a well arranged entertainment, a large number of applications for membership were received. The meeting was the nature of a get-together and snuck talk for prospective members of the union of blacksmiths and seipors to be formed here.

Walter Chase, president of the Billerica car shops' local, was the presiding officer, and after brief remarks, in which he explained the purpose of the meeting and the results expected in obtaining sufficient numbers to start an organization in this city. After a singing musical program the chairman introduced Mayor Murphy, who told of the advantages to be derived from tradesmen organizing to protect their interests and he spoke in favor of one day off in five for permanent firemen.

Jackson Palmer, candidate for mayor, followed the mayor. He said that organization among the different trades and brighter Lowell. He also spoke in favor of one day off in five for the firemen. He received a good hand, and upon being called upon to sing a song he responded with a classical number, James E. Donnelly was enthusiastically applauded when he sang a number of Harry Lauder's song-hits, and he was obliged to respond to several encores.

Frank Warnock, president of the Trades Labor council, said: At the time the pumping station was to be built I personally interviewed your members of the city government, and asked them to vote against awarding the contract for the job to Contractor Gaw. One of your commissioners, now present, informed me on the South common that he would vote against him obtaining that contract, and I felt sure of our vote. I then went to the other members and each in turn promised to support me in my fight against this man. A few days afterward I left for Washington to attend the annual convention of Plasterers, and I had hardly landed in the capital city before I was informed by telegram that every member had turned around and voted to award the contract to Contractor Gaw. In my campaign speeches I am told to get out and tell the people of Lowell just who is and who is not unfair to organized labor. Those who have been, will be shown up and the people will also know who treated them fairly.

Joseph Convery and Fireman Conway, members of the Lowell Firemen's club, asked the support of the gathering of the police for one day off in five for the firemen of this city. The meeting closed with remarks by J. A. Goulet, vice president Fred C. Goulet and W. H. Poirer of Toronto, Canada, a member of the Blacksmiths' international organization.

WM. H. CAREY

He Gets Five Hundred Dollars from Carnegie Hero Fund

William H. Carey, the local hero, who was awarded a bronze medal by the Carnegie Hero fund commission, a report of which appeared in Saturday's Sun, to day received official notification of the award, and he was surprised to find that in addition to the medal he is to receive $500 for his act of heroism. The letter arrived today, and Mr. Carey who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, is elated over the finding. "The fact that I was to receive a medal," said Mr. Carey, "caused me to forget my illness, for I was elated to hear that I was to be made the recipient of such a valuable trophy, but today when I found that I was also to get $500 I made me jump with joy."

The letter which contained the official award was in part as follows:

Dear Mr. Carey:

Your case after a thorough investigation was considered at a meeting of the commission held this afternoon and I have much pleasure in informing you that in recognition of your heroism on that occasion, the commission awarded you a bronze medal and the sum of $500 for a worthy purpose to be approved by the executive committee. I shall be obliged if you will kindly advise me without delay by letter bearing your own signature whether or not you wish to accept the commission's award. If your reply is affirmative the medal will be ordered and it will be delivered as soon as it has been received from the manufacturers, and the money will be held for you until it is needed for the purpose which will later be decided by the executive committee.

Yours very truly,
F. M. Wilmet,
Manager of Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

VOTE TAXATION REFORM

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD SUPPORT THIS AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

The subject of taxation reform on which Governor Walsh has laid such emphasis during his campaign is one of the great economic questions of the hour in this state. All parties agree that our present taxation system is inadequate and out of date, but no party has a more definite program of reform than the democratic party. This program is in line with the attempts of Governor Walsh to get a reform in tax levying and collecting methods through a republican legislature. It is a matter that affects every voter, for with a satisfactory taxation system the state would have more revenue, tax rates would be reduced in cities and towns and the burden of taxation would be distributed more evenly.

Governor Walsh has declared many times that this state is cheated out of millions of dollars yearly owing to the concealment of intangible property. Owners of stocks and bonds find many loopholes of escape from just taxation and those that do pay taxes are forced therefore to pay more than their just share. If all stocks and bonds were declared, the tax revenue would be far greater. It is the plan of the democratic party to compel the declaration of all intangible property. Compulsory returns would prevent tax dodging.

Another taxation reform favored by Governor Walsh and the democratic party is the redistribution of corporation taxes by the state so that the money would come to the cities and towns where the properties are located instead of to rich towns and cities where the stockholders live. If this were in force, Lowell would get many thousands of dollars annually that now go to other places and do us no good. This subject of taxation reform should commend itself to every voter who is interested in civic progress and desirous of seeing a reduction in the high cost of living.

BEFORE COURT MARTIAL

Rear Admiral Little Pleads Not Guilty to Charges of Neglect and Careless Methods

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, pleaded not guilty before a naval court martial today, to charges of neglect and careless methods while on duty as an inspection officer during the construction of the submarine K-2 at the Fore River Shipbuilding company's yard at Quincy, two years ago.

Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske was president of the court martial and Lieutenant Commander Alfred W. Johnson, as judge advocate, opened the proceedings by reading the list of charges. Commander James L. Lathuer represented Rear Admiral Little.

Lieut. Radford Mosley, the first witness, stated that he was one of the inspecting officers at Fore River during the building of the K-2 and subsequently was her commanding officer. He said he called the attention of

Lieut. Child, another inspecting officer at the yard, to certain defects in the battery cells. The voltage, he said, ran low after each discharge and upon investigation he found lead drops in 12 of the 17 cells. He testified that he did not report the defects to Rear Admiral Little but talked the matter over with him. The contractors, Lieut. Mosley said, objected to making any change in the battery cells.

Commander Lathuer, counsel for Rear Admiral Little, raised the point that the condition of the cells did not constitute a defect in the workmanship of the submarine, but was due to construction by their makers, a New York firm, which had been required by specifications to furnish them. The court went into executive session to discuss the point.

SECURITY FAMILIES OF SOLDIERS

LONDON, Nov. 1, 10:20 a. m.—a committee of the German socialist party has issued a statement contending that the new regulations concerning foodstuffs are insufficient and demanding new rules, says a Central News despatch from Amsterdam. The socialist party and a committee representing trades unions have petitioned the chancellor to supply soldiers' families with potatoes and coal from November until March at the expense of the empire.

GREECE AND BULGARIA FRIENDLY

LONDON, Nov. 1, 10:37 a. m.—A continuation of friendly relations between Greece and Bulgaria is indicated by the success of a Greek commission which recently went to Sofia to negotiate for the purchase of wheat for Greece. According to the Times' London correspondent, the Bulgarian government has indicated its willingness to export wheat to Greece by way of the despatch Salonic railway.

A despatch reaching Bucharest from Sofia says an ordinary session of the Sovereign (parliament) which was scheduled for Oct. 25, was adjourned by royal decree until December 25.

DOCTOR PRESCRIBED VINOL

To Restore Strength to This Weak, Nervous Woman

Many fair-minded doctors prescribe Vinol because they know of what it is made, viz.—the medicinal extracts of fresh cod livers, peptonate of iron and beef peptone, without oil or grease, in a mild tonic wine. They know these are the oldest and most famous tonics. Read the result in Mrs. Mason's case.

"I keep house for my little family of two, and got into a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was tired and weak, and did not know what ailed me. My doctor prescribed Vinol. I noticed an improvement before I had finished the first bottle, and I am now feeling fine and doing all my housework." Mrs. M. S. Mason, 203 Passaic St., Trenton, N. J.

Every weak, nervous, run-down person, feeble old people and delicate child in Lowell should try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to benefit.

INCREASED FACILITIES AT GOVERNMENT-OWNED ORDNANCE AND POWDER PLANTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The desirability of building up and increasing the facilities at government-owned ordnance and powder plants probably will be emphasized by Secretary Daniels in his forthcoming annual report. The secretary, it is known, is much pleased over reports submitted to him by the navy's bureau of ordnance. Officials estimate that, with the manufacture of smokeless powder at Indian Head, Md., it will be possible to furnish the navy with all ammunition that it needs at a cost of approximately 25 cents a pound. Satisfaction is expressed over reports received of the improvement in the production of torpedoes at the government plant at Newport, R. I., where the capacity has increased 100 per cent.

—Commr. Putnam Explains

In view of the recent fire disaster in the St. John's school at Peabody, state and local officials are getting busy with new orders and recommen-is about to send out a bulletin to school masters, emphasizing several points to prevent fire and the perfect-

Commissioner Newell F. Putnam, whose department includes lands and buildings, received a report from State

Officer Carey containing recommendations having to do with the Franklin school. This is in addition to anything the state had previously recommended. His recommendations include outside fire escapes, the plastering of the cellar ceiling and also plastering underneath the stairway over metal baths.

Discussing today, the recommendations made by the state inspector.

SLAYER OF DETECTIVE
RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

"Honey" Budlong Who Killed
Detective Dorman Surrounded and Shot Down by Officers

STRAFFORD, Conn., Nov. 1.—Riddled with bullets as a result of resisting capture at Avon Park today, Lindel Bosworth, alias "Honey" Budlong, slayer of Detective Bennett W. Dor-man of the New Haven police force is dying at a Bridgeport hospital.

The capture was made near the "haunted" house where Bosworth had made his headquarters since arriving in this vicinity about noon Saturday. He was called from the house by supposed friends. The police, some from New Haven and some from Bridgeport, were hidden nearby. As he emerged from the house the police began to close in on him. He drew an automatic revolver but as he started to fire he slipped. The officers opened fire on him and half a dozen or more bullets were sent into him. He was then made prisoner and taken to the hospital. Physicians say he has practically no chance for recovery.

Bosworth is said to be wanted in Newark, N. J., for burglary and stabbing. In his clothing was a newspaper account of the murder of Justice
Knowles at North Scituate, R. I., last

SENATOR KIMBALL QUIT ARE DRIVEN INTO RIVER

COULDN'T STAND REP. BURKE'S
QUESTIONS AT THE U. S. COURT-
ROOMS SHUT THIS NOON

There was something doing in the political line at the Cartridge shop this noon. Representative Burke of Lynn and Senator Kimball of Littleton, the rival candidates for senator in the seventh district arrived there simultaneously to address the employees during the noon-hour.

Representative Burke made the first speech and he enlivened it by putting questions to his opponent.

"Senator Kimball, why did you vote against the Gen. Butler statue bill?"
he asked.

"Why did you vote against the mothers' pension bill?"

"Why did you vote against the Saturday half-holiday bill?"

The crowd cheered. Representative Burke as he asked the questions and then waited for the senator's reply.

Senator Kimball said he voted against the Butler statue bill because prominent Lowell men had advised him to do so.

Representative Burke immediately challenged him to name one Lowell man who so advised him, but he named him not.

Senator Kimball then stated that he did not vote against the Saturday half-holiday measure, whereupon Representative Burke jumped up with the Journal of the House of Representatives and started to read from the record.

As he did Senator Kimball started up his auto and left the scene, and Representative Burke remained and was roundly cheered.

FRENCH CHARGED WITH BAYONET AND BULGARS WERE DRIVEN INTO VARDAR

SALONIKI, Greece, Oct. 31, via Paris,
Oct. 31, 4:35 p. m. (Delayed in transmission).—An attempt made yesterday by the Bulgarians with the aid of artillery to dislodge French troops from their northernmost position in Serbia met with failure.

A few advanced posts scouting in the direction of Velea retired before a Bulgarian attack to their base at Krivolak, where a division of French troops was strongly entrenched. The Bulgars then attacked this position three times.
The Bulgarians were caught in a cross fire of the French artillery and stopped when they were met by a fusillade of the infantry.

Initially the French charged with the bayonet and the Bulgarians were driven into the Vardar river which is swollen by recent rains, any many were drowned.

It is asserted that Kotehadie pass has been reconquered by the French and that the Velea district has been freed of the Bulgarians although the town and railroad still remain in Bulgarian hands.

IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

SUPREME COURT HANDS DOWN DE-CISION IN ARIZONA ANTI-ALIEN
LABOR LAW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Arizona anti-alien labor law was today declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

The supreme court's decision affirms the decision of a special circuit court which also held the law unconstitutional. Much attention was attracted to the case because several foreign governments had protested against the law and because of its similarity to the land legislation in California which restricts the ownership of real estate by Japanese.

The Arizona law was enacted by the initiative vote of the people of Arizona and made it unlawful for any employer of five persons to employ less than 50 per cent qualified electors or citizens of the United States. The case passed on by the court was one in which an Austrian waiter in Bisbee, Ariz., sought to enjoin his employer and the state from enforcing the law as to him.

Justice Hughes in announcing the court's decision, said it had already been established that aliens in this country were entitled to the equal protection of laws "and that means equal laws for aliens and citizens."

Justice McKeen's alone dissented, on the ground that the suit to enjoin the enforcement of the law was one barred by the constitution because it was one against the state.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. MR. ARCHIBALD PIERCES
ON CLAIMS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Speaking on prohibition and woman suffrage at the First Baptist church on Sunday night, the pastor, Rev. A. C. Archibald said that we cannot separate the Christian life of the church from the Christian life in any other line of endeavor. Christianity means Christianity in all its phases, and not alone in the church. He said the politician will object to the carrying of a man's Christianity to the polls, because the politician doesn't really believe in such a spirit. And the worldly church member will object, I suppose he will have to give up a lot of things which he now follows. Well, Christianity, he said, is in our social and political life then a lot of things which are now allowed to go on will not be tolerated. "No man can be a Christian in church and not vote for a Christian cause or for the cause of the oppressed," he said. "I say," he continued, "that the salvation of our city make for deliverance of the public mind in every way. They are causes of immorality, and I have been told by one who knows, that 25 per cent of all the crime committed here is due directly to the evil influence of liquor."

"I am against the argument of the anti-suffragists that women, if they vote will get out of their true sphere. That is not an argument at all, for thousands of women have gone into new spheres and have remained just as truly feminine as any who remain in their homes. The statement of those opposers is that women are the children of Eve, that they should be protected from the temptations of business and politics and all such conditions. But the argument fails, because the majority of them are not children of Eve, they are protected from the temptations. The vast majority of them are workers in the factory, in the home, in the office. And the only thing which suffrage has ever given them is the right to do the same work that men do for half the remuneration."

THE NESMITH ESTATE

MOVEMENT ON FOOT TO PURCHASE ESTATE FROM STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

The trustees of the will of John Nesmith of this city, it is stated, are endeavoring to purchase the estate in Lowell, mostly in John street and Poland streets, and owned by the state of New Hampshire. The estate is valued at nearly $100,000.

John Nesmith was a native of New Hampshire. When he died in 1863 he left a will which provided that on the death of his heirs the property should go to the state of New Hampshire, the income to be used for the support and education of the indigent blind.

The legislature in 1911 authorized Gov. Bates to dispose of the state's interest in the estate if such a course should seem desirable. Shortly after the surviving heirs, of whom there were four, died, leaving $100,000 for the state's interest.

Gov. Bates appointed Judge William M. Carter to make an appraisal and his report gave the value of the real estate at $121,000 and of the personal property $45,000.

At the session of the legislature of 1914 a resolution was passed reaffirming the acceptance of the gift and authorizing Gov. Feltner to take all necessary measures to conserve, conserve and enforce the right of the state in the gift.

The heirs have a life interest in the estate. There are at present three, the youngest of whom is 55 years old.

COUNTESS MAGRI IS 74

FAMOUS MUGGET, FORMERLY MRS. TOM THUMB, INVENTS TABLET TO MEMORY OF RICHARD WARREN

MIDDLEBURY, Nov. 1.—Countess Magri, better known by her former name of Mrs. General Tom Thumb, yesterday celebrated her 74th birthday at her home in Warrentown, a village of this town, with a brass band, a set of musical playing cards in action, and a gathering of about 200 persons, many of whom came from a distance. Countess Magri and her husband unveiled a small tablet that has been placed in her front yard, which bears a bronze tablet in memory of Richard Warren, one of the voyagers in the Mayflower, who is the countess' ancestor.

After the ceremony of unveiling the tablet and having a national flag to the music of the brass band, the guests retired to the house. It was nearly sundown before the party was over.

The simplicity with which Countess Magri went through the afternoon and the dignity with which she presided at the ceremony were entirely delightful. Her experiences all over the world during which she has met royalty, nobles and all sorts of people, have given her a great personality. She has given her a partner with her daily upon her distinctly New England personality.

For Countess Magri was born within a stone's throw of the spot where her home stands. She was Lavina Warren, eighth in descent from Richard Warren of the Mayflower, and was born a subject. So her birth was a subject of interest to the guests.

Countess Magri has been in public life, which is to say show life, ever since she was a mere child. She married Gen. Tom Thumb at an early age, and together they traveled over the world.

Like Children's Play House

A few of yesterday's visitors were permitted to see the rooms occupied by the countess and count. Here all the furniture is of any size, as if for the playhouse of children. Two rooms are set apart for the second story of the house for their use and they are crammed from end to end with beautiful things, curios, furniture especially designed and built and practically all of it in the style of children.

The house, a square built, old fashioned, rather plain, wooden, house, stands at a corner of the road out of Middlebury. Just across the way is the famous red house built and occupied for years by Gen. Tom Thumb. It is now tenanted by the countess and her family.

Early in the afternoon the party began to arrive. The countess, dressed in a white gown, with a temporary change of position, took for the occasion and holding chairs (which for the first time in the party and guests of the countess) and the guests in the evening and the party in the evening.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 1.—A special investigation by the German military authorities concerning Robert Fay, who is under arrest in New York charged with conspiracy in connection with an alleged plot to blow up ships carrying supplies for the entente allies and who has declared that he was a lieutenant in the German army, was followed by a statement from the authorities yesterday that there is not now and never was an officer called Fay in the German army.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
The Starlight club entertained a number of their friends last Saturday at Miss Gertrude Mason's camp in North Chelmsford.

In the afternoon a vaudeville show was put on by an all star cast. Gertrude Mason was heard in Pantomimes, Irene Crowe, a stellar violinist, Margaret Collins, monologist, Soft shoe and wooden shoe dancing by Jennie Bourke. May Moran was a wizard at the harmonica. Florence Usher gave some excellent whistling solos and imitations of birds. An original comic sketch entitled "My Neighbor Upstairs" was put on by Gertrude Mason, May Moran and Irene Crowe. The headline number was a musical show by the entire club. After the vaudeville show a buffet luncheon was served. Then the evening was given over to dancing and Halloween games. Many valuable prizes were given.

The camp was beautifully decorated with the autumn colors, yellow and black, and the favors received by the guests were small surface flags and buttons.

The program of the party were Mrs. Belle Mason, Mrs. Charlotte Thayer and Mrs. Emma Reid. The officers of the Starlight club are: Gertrude Mason, president; Jennie Bourke, secretary and Florence Usher, treasurer.

YOSHINO'S BIRTHDAY
Brilliant Celebration in Honor of the Emperor's Birthday in Coronation Season in Japan

TOKIO, Nov. 1.—A brilliant celebration yesterday of the birthday of Emperor Yoshihito ushered in the coronation season, the most notable event of which will occur on Nov. 10, when the emperor will formally ascend to the throne of Nippon.

The emperor gave a luncheon in the palace to the royal princes and princesses and the diplomatic corps last night. This was followed by a dinner given by Baron Kikujiro Ishii, minister of foreign affairs, the reception being attended by many Americans.

It was decided Saturday night to cancel the arrangement for a review of troops by the emperor.

Why Tolerate Catarrh?
You have noticed, no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucous mucus you find such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vaseline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes. Scott's is pleasant to take.

STATE BRANCH, A. F. OF L., ADOPTED RESOLUTIONS ON THE PEABODY FIRE

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—The members of the executive board of the state branch, A. F. of L., at their meeting in the Old South building yesterday, went on record as favoring more stringent fire prevention and protection laws. The following resolution was adopted on the Peabody fire:

"Whereas, our hearts are touched with tender pity for the suffering and sorrow that has saddened the lives of the fathers and mothers in a score of homes in Peabody, and

"Whereas, the event which brought this desolation seems not to have been due to any violation of law, and

"Whereas, under the existing laws and ordinances the lives of our loved ones in schools, factories, mills, workshops and crematories may be snuffed out without warning,

"Resolved, that the state branch, American Federation of Labor, lend every aid and assistance to so strengthen and perfect our safety laws that human life shall be properly safeguarded against fire."

Resolutions commending Judge Jas. B. Carroll of the supreme court for his work as former chairman of the industrial accident board were ordered expressed to be presented to the judge at the first meeting of the Springfield Central labor union in January.

The legislative committee has prepared the state branch bills to be presented to the next general court. In forcement was given the work carried on by Miss Elizabeth A. Power and Miss Catherine McDonald of the Dorchester Five Home for Consumptives.

The following auditors were chosen for the coming year by Pres. Joseph J. Hunt: Harry Jennings, Miss Annie Molloy and William C. Francke.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Considerable important business was transacted at yesterday's meeting of Division I. A. O. U., held with President George O'Meara presiding. Several committee reports were read. It was announced that the division will soon hold a smoke talk and class initiation. The following committee was appointed to have charge of the arrangements: Chairman, Geo. O'Meara; secretary, Homer J. Verville; Martin McCarthy, Joseph Johnson, Henry Smith, James A. Sheehan, Thomas P. Sheedy, Patrick Reardon, John O'Hare, James E. Burns, James Lyons, Michael Davis, Michael Casey and Michael McMillen. The meeting adjourned and all plans will be submitted at the regular meeting Thursday night.

LINCOLN MASQUERADE BALL

The committee in charge of the Lincoln masquerade ball has completed arrangements and all that is necessary to make the night the success of previous years is the co-operation of the club members and their invited guests. The concert program will begin at 7.35 and the grand march starts promptly at 8.15. Masqueraders are requested to meet at associate hall by 7.30 where the upper rooms of the building will be at their disposal.

BRITISH NAVY

Newspapermen Praise Fleet for Preparedness and Efficiency

LONDON, Nov. 1, 3.15 a. m.—Graphic descriptions of the first visit of British newspapermen to Great Britain's grand fleet are published by all the morning papers. They unite in paying tribute to the preparedness and efficiency of the British navy, not only as to the main fighting units but also to the less prominent but equally important auxiliaries of various types.

A naval officer aboard one of the ships told the correspondents that in addition to the war fleet proper, there are between 2000 and 3000 ships of the merchant marine employed in transport and supply duty, and as many more engaged in patrol work or in following the "declining efforts of enemy submarines." The visitors were shown the celebrated map on which are marked the places where German submarines have been captured, destroyed or sunk and various methods for meeting the submarine menace were explained to them.

"We actually saw vessels engaged in this anti-submarine business leaving port," says one correspondent. "Indeed, it is not necessary to go outside the harbor to understand why the blockade has failed. Here at anchor alongside one another lay the base and the antitide."

One full day of the visit was spent in inspecting large new naval works at a place which a short time ago was swamp land but now is a live and busy naval establishment with all the large enough when completed to accommodate 20 aircraft carriers. The works include three drydocks, each of which is capable of holding any ship afloat.

The party visited the battle cruisers Lion and Tiger, viewing the patched rumps and shell scars received in the North sea battle. They also visited the Australia and New Zealand, colonial contributions to the high seas fleet.

One correspondent, touching on various devices used in patrolling, declares a superdreadnought can be so cleverly disguised that even in daylight the practiced eye will be likely to mistake her for a craft of a ton or her size while the difficulties of range finding are increased infinitely.

ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

ADDRESS AT COLONIAL HALL BY DR. FRANCIS J. FLINN, S.S.L.

LAST NIGHT

Speaking on the principles of Christian Science, and addressing a large audience in Colonial hall, yesterday, Dr. Francis J. Flinn, S.S.L., said:

The claims of Christian Science on the modern world are the claims of the Christian Science on the prehistoric age, the present age and the ages to come.

It makes no new claims on the modern world; its claims are only new to the limited sense, the finite vision and the materially-bounded perception.

The average man, until awakened by science, is naturally in his swaddling clothes, whose horizon is marked by the age in which he lives, or, more limited by his life and living, sees only to the boundaries of his own few years; or still more limited, sees the way to live, and the ways of life, only in his own immediate business, church or creed.

If anything new comes to him, he is apt to deem it some transient, shallow inconsistency, some infirmity upon the scriptures, or some new attempt of the evil one to win from his god.

Christian Science is not a discovery of a new truth, but a new discovery of an old truth.

It turns the searchlight on animal magnetism, mesmerism, hypnotism and mental suggestion, and shown them to be dealing entirely with the mortal or finite mind, so-called, which is but the negative of the divine mind, or mind of God; and has no more existence, compared with the divine mind, than darkness has, compared with light.

CANNOT SAVE SERBIA

MILITARY CORRESPONDENT OF LONDON TIMES SAYS SITUATION IS DESPERATE

ROME, Oct. 31, via Paris, Nov. 1, 4.45 a. m.—Col. Repington, military correspondent of the London Times, declared in an interview given the Giornale d'Italia that the situation of Serbia is desperate. With her army completely isolated, he said, its only chance of safety is to retire to the Adriatic coast, outside its own territory. Once there, Italy could either supply military help or provide provisions and munitions.

The expedition of the allies from Salonika cannot arrive in time to save Serbia, Col. Repington asserted while the Austro-Germans can be in Constantinople within a week. He believes, however, that whatever happens in the Orient, the eventual exhaustion of Germany and Austria will enable the allies to win.

"DON'T PITY ME," SAYS BRYAN

Has Seen Reforms Accomplished That 200 Years Ago Would Have Cost Many Lives, He Adds

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—In a speech for prohibition at a mass meeting at noon yesterday William Jennings Bryan told an audience not to pity him for his "unsuccessful political career."

"Sometimes my friends have expressed their sympathy to me because of what they termed the unsuccessfulness of my political career," said Bryan. "Why, they should do that. Since I've been in politics reforms have been accomplished without the loss of a single life that would have cost thousands of lives in sacrifices 200 years ago."

"Pity me? Don't do it. If I had lived two centuries ago and advocated what I do now I would have been hanged. No one has accomplished any great reform without being abused and ostracized at first. But when a man believes he is in the right he must speak out."

FIRE HERO HONORED

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong and other city and county officials, as well as members of 23 local societies, yesterday attended the funeral of Peter Vallone, who lost his life last Monday in the North Side box factory fire after having rescued six girls.

Following funeral services at a downtown undertaking establishment, the body was escorted to Calvary cemetery, where 3000 persons had assembled. A fund is now being raised to erect a monument to him.

A tribute to Vallone was paid Saturday at a meeting of the Congress of Women's clubs when the members stood in silence for a minute in honor of the hero.

SUFFRAGISTS' CONFIDENT

LEADERS DECLARED TODAY THAT NEW YORK WOULD GRANT VOTES TO WOMEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The suffragists of New York state will close their fight for the ballot today with all their campaign machinery running full speed. Leaders declared today that the largest state in the union would grant votes to women.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the Empire state campaign committee, said the suffragists had made a house to house campaign all over the state, and that this was the basis for their declaration that one million women in New York state wanted to vote.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, president of the Woman's suffrage union, said that they expected to overcome a small adverse majority in New York city by success up-state.

The leaders of the women's organizations against suffrage predicted the defeat of the amendment by a large majority. Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, president of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, and Miss Alice Hill Chamberlain, president of the New York State Anti-Suffrage association, thought New York city would give a majority of 100,000 against the proposition, with a much smaller majority outside this city.

Mrs. Dodge announced that they were sure of success in Buffalo, Rochester, Utica, Albany and Watertown.

Suffrage Debate

Sixty automobiles loaded with speakers for suffrage left the Battery this morning for a final effort which will continue until midnight. Ten vans carrying huge signs lettered with suffrage appeals traversed the streets. One of the features of the day was a debate before the Presbyterian Ministers' association between Mrs. Raymond Brown, president of the New York State Woman's Suffrage association, and Mrs. Frank Goodwin of Greenwich, Conn., representing the anti-suffragists.

The activity of the campaigners for and against the suffrage amendment has overshadowed the efforts of the male political workers on the question of adopting a new state constitution. All the enrolled democratic voters of New York county societies today left their homes for the executive committee of Tammany hall advising them to "protect your city by voting against the constitution."

Robert S. Binkerd, secretary of the committee for this election of the constitution, said today that he expected the adoption of the constitution by about three majorities.

12 FOUR MASS MEETINGS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Woman suffragists who are asking the men of Pennsylvania to give the women the right to vote, made their final appeal today, more than 2000 women having been arranged for in different parts of the city.

Several twelve hour mass meetings without intermission were in progress in the city today.

Demonstrations were held to equal suffrage were also active.

"As Ye Sow So Shall Ye Reap"

"The House of Dignified Credit," when entering into business, adopted the rule that "No matter what the cost, Satisfy the Customer," and this rule we have tried to live up to in every detail. We therefore attribute our extraordinary success to this important principle, and what is more gratifying is that our opening during the past week manifested that we have even greater prospects for the future.

In just two years Summerfield's, "The House of Dignified Credit," has increased nearly 75% in business. It has gained over 20,000 accounts. It has grown so rapidly and so wonderfully that it is the talk of the furniture world today, and every bit of that growth has been natural, and has been because the people want the quality and style merchandise at the prices which are without question the best to be had in all New England, based on what the people want, what they like and what is best for them to have at the most liberal terms of credit.

This growth in business, in spite of the war, in spite of business conditions and in spite of tight money, has been the most wonderful growth ever made by any furniture house in all New England, and it could only happen and only did happen because the great New England Public want all that is in fair, honest merchandise at legitimate prices and under convenient conditions to pay for same. It's easy to pay the Summerfield way.

AWAIT VILLA'S ATTACK

Gen. Calles and Carranza Garrison of 7000 Men Ready for Battle at Agua Prieta

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 1.—Dawn today disclosed that Gen. Villa's forces had moved closer to Agua Prieta during the night for their expected attack upon the Carranza garrison, commanded by Gen. P. Elias Calles. The night passed without clashes.

Early today United States soldiers began digging trenches well inside the line already constructed. They are so well situated as to control the eastern end of Agua Prieta as well as the advancing right wing of Villa's army. It was understood these trenches were for emergency use in the event of serious fighting across the border endangering Americans and the possibility of their being compelled to fall back.

Hospital Cleared of Sick
With the hospitals at Agua Prieta cleared of sick and wounded, trenches and underground dressing stations manned, Gen. P. Elias Calles and the Carranza garrison of 7000 men with 10 field pieces and thirty or forty machine guns awaited today Gen. Francisco Villa's attack.

Three motor trucks yesterday brought over to the American side nearly 50 incapacitated soldiers who were shot in previous fights in Sonora and 27 men and women typhoid patients, survivors of a recent epidemic in the Mexican town.

Refugees on Border
Thousands of refugees and women and children camp followers of the Mexican garrison, all of classes not legally admissible to the United States waited on the international border for permission to cross and enter a detention camp when the fighting actually begins.

Dawn today showed Villa's troops spread out fairly around Agua Prieta in a semi-circle from east to south, about five miles out. Generals Urbalejo and Antonio Mendez, the latter commander of an advance guard which had a skirmish with Carranza troops at Cabulito, are at points west of Agua Prieta, one in the vicinity of Ahavacachi Pass, the other near Naco. Gen. Calles' two secretaries swept

"If your hair is straight, flat, dull looking, I need not ask if you long to possess perpetually wavy, fluff, fluffy, glossy tresses," says Gladys Coleman in Society World. "I'll tell you what to do. Tonight, after your hair has had its usual brushing, take a clean toothbrush, dip it in a saucer of pure liquid glycerine and run this through the hair from crown to tip. "When morning dawns and you have yawned yourself out of your drowsy coat, you will have a real surprise, quite an agreeable one. Your hair will have a prettier and more natural-looking curl and lustre than it has ever had before—and there will be nothing sticky, sticky, greasy or anything unpleasant about it. If you will get the liquid glycerine from your druggist it will require no preparation at all, and four or five ounces will last for months. This is just the finest thing imaginable for the purpose."

Commissioner Putnam said that all of the recommendations had not been complied with because of the fact that the municipal council did not allow him sufficient money. He asked, he said, for $5500 and was allowed $2000.
"What were considered the most important things," said Mr. Putnam, "have been or are being done. In about all the schools where there are halls we have done what we felt was most necessary, but there still remain changes recommended by the state inspector which it will be impossible to do this year because there is not the money to pay for them."
"Remaining undone are the following things urgently recommended by Mr. Carey, the district inspector, earlier in the year and recommended to the municipal council sitting as a committee on appropriations last March: At the Highland school a fire escape on the south end which should run from the second floor to the ground and also the cutting down of windows from this entrance to the fire escape. At the Morrill school two partitions with doors to swing both ways in corridors on first and second floors in the making of entrances on the south side of the building from the first floor to the ground by lowering the windows and putting doors in their places and also the erection of a fire escape from said doors to the ground on both ends of the building."
"Mr. Carey recommended 50 feet of new hose in the hall of the new Bartlett school and also the purchase of six fire extinguishers for this hall. Neither have been purchased. At the Green school it was recommended that a door from room to room on the first floor be cut and also on the second floor and that the pipe be changed in its location. In this school also there should be glass partitions over the doors and doors to swing both ways at the foot of the stairs on the southeast side of building on the first two floors. Four new fire extinguishers were recommended, but have not been purchased."

"At the old Moody school it was recommended that outside doors be changed to open out and that improved hardware be placed on them. While on all stairways hand rails be built. I am told by Mr. Burnham, the head carpenter, that this will undoubtedly be done before the close of the year."
"Conditions at the High school annex are not what they should be, but I have done all that money would let me do. Mr. Carey has recommended an egress on the south side to conform with the state law in regard to seating capacity. This is the most important change left undone."

"At the Varnum school many changes were recommended and every one of them has been done except plastering over the boiler in the old building. And the same is true at the Edison school where there remains to be done what is called plastering of the boiler."

FRENCH VICTORY POLICE COURT SESSION

Germans Beaten on a Five Mile Front in Champagne

PARIS, Nov. 1.—German troops in important masses made a thoroughly organized attack Saturday night along a front of nearly five miles in the Champagne district and were subjected to a serious check with heavy losses, the French war office announced yesterday. It is asserted that the assaulting forces were hurled back along the entire front of the attack, extending from the vicinity of Hill No. 195 to the position of "La Couronne," except that they succeeded in reaching the summit of Hill No. 195.

Large numbers of bodies were left by the Germans upon the battlefield. The infantry engaged in the assault were chiefly troops recently transferred from the Russian front, according to the French official statement, which reads as follows:

The enemy bombardment reported Saturday night in the Champagne district with great violence on a front of about eight kilometers (about five miles) bounded by the woods on the side of Hill No. 195, Butte de Taurine, the village of Taurine, and the trenches to the south as far as including the works of "La Couronne." This preparation was followed along this entire front by a thoroughly organized attack by important masses of infantry, forced in the major part from troops recently brought up from the Russian front.

Sized Taurine Height

"In spite of the vigor of the attack and the extreme ferocity of the assault, the enemy was again subjected to a serious check. The assaulting waves, decimated by our fire upon the entire front, succeeded only in attaining the summit of the Butte de Taurine. Everywhere else and notably before the village, where the fighting was particularly stubborn, the Germans were completely repulsed and thrown back into their trenches. They left upon the scene of the struggle a very large number of bodies.

"There has been no very important action on the rest of the front."

The official statement issued last night reads as follows:

"In the course of spirited artillery actions in the regions of Lamberville our batteries demolished several enemy observation posts.

"In Artillery duels has continued north and east of Souchez, being particularly marked in the neighborhood of the Bois de Jancin.

"North-east of Neuville-St. Vaast the struggle continued with great obstinacy for possession of these sections of trenches where the enemy penetrated yesterday. We have re-taken part of them.

"In Champagne the Germans, after a fresh artillery preparation, with the employment of large quantities of suffocating shells of large calibre, renewed their attacks in the region north of Le Mesnil.

"They attempted during the course of the day four successive assaults—the first at 4 o'clock on the extreme of 'La Couronne,' the second at 2 o'clock against Taurine, the third at 2 o'clock south of the village, the fourth at 4 o'clock against the ridges to the northeast.

"Everywhere our artillery and infantry fire stopped their progress and obliged them to retreat in disorder to the trenches which they had left. Their losses were again very heavy. Three hundred and sixty-five unwounded prisoners, of whom three were officers, remained in our hands.

"Artillery engagements are reported in the Vosges. They were particularly violent in the regions of the Ban de Saint and Vieux."

MAN FINED FOR LEAVING AUTO ENGINE RUNNING—OTHER CASES BEFORE JUDGE ENRIGHT

The first conviction in the local police court under the statute enacted recently compelling persons to support their destitute parents was made this forenoon when Daniel J. McDonald, aged 35 years, was adjudged guilty of failing to properly provide for his mother, Mrs. Helen T. Bon, aged 65 years, who resides at 33 Church street. Frederick S. Harvey appeared for the defendant and the case went to trial under a plea of not guilty.

His Honor found the woman in destitute circumstances and ordered the defendant to pay $250 each week to the probation officer toward her support.

Auto Laws

Charles P. Harrington, who strenuously contested a charge of violating the automobile laws on October 14 by allowing the engine of a truck which he was operating to run on a public street, was called on continuance today. Judge Enright stated that he had gone into the case thoroughly and found the man guilty. A fine of $5 was imposed and an appeal taken. D. J. Donahue appeared for Harrington.

Motorcycle Case

Joseph Rivers was accused of drunkenness and operating a motorcycle while under the influence of liquor on Merrimack street last night. Through his attorney, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, he pleaded not guilty and was held in $200 bonds until Wednesday.

Rivers was arrested near city hall by Special Officer Clark and Patrolmen Rezan and McElroy. It is claimed that he was having trouble with his engine and was lighting matches under the machine to ascertain what was out of order when arrested by the officers.

Pleading guilty to two complaints charging drunkenness and assault and battery on William De. Stanislaw Silons was fined $12. It was claimed that the defendant met Stanislaw on East Merrimack street yesterday afternoon and struck him in view of two police officers.

The case of Peter Padonowski, who pleaded not guilty to drunkenness, occupied considerable time. J. Joseph O'Connor appeared for Peter. Patrolmen Conroy and Burns informed the court that as a result of complaints received from the defendant's neighbors they went to his home and found Peter walking up and down the corridor. They said he was fighting drunk and used vile language. He was found guilty and fined $5, from which sentence he appealed.

Last Friday Mrs. Manuel Jose Paralelo complained to the police that she was afraid to go home because her husband was drunk and violent, and had already struck her. In consequence Manuel was arrested for assault and battery but this forenoon his wife refused to testify against him and the complaint was dismissed.

Joseph Brown, who has been before the court several times for a statutory offense, was today given a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction. He has two children in an orphan asylum in Manchester, N. H.

Two of a quartet of drunks in the dock today had their cases continued, and the other two were given suspended sentences. There were several releases.

LOWELL MAN STABBED

JAMES FLYNN RECEIVED MYSTERY KNIFE WOUND IN WAL-THAM

WALTHAM, Nov. 1.—An assault, apparently without provocation and without motive, has given the Waltham police a hard case to work on and has put James Flynn, 35, of 70 Church street, Lowell, in a dangerous condition in the Couzens hospital.

Flynn was here yesterday to visit his brother, John Flynn, and Henry V. (Gavin), of 31 Gorham street. About 7:30 o'clock the three men were walking along Elm street toward the railroad station, where James was to take a train for home.

Near Hathaway's bakery they saw a crowd of foreigners on the sidewalk. James was walking on the inside, and as he passed one of them, without a word, drove a knife into his back.

At James' cry of "My God, I'm stabbed," the crowd scattered, so that his companions could give no description of any of them. They hurried the injured man to the Couzens hospital, where Dr. W. W. Couzens found that he had a bad wound in the back from which he had suffered much loss of blood, and he feared a puncture of the kidney.

Capt. Curran has sent out a number of officers to round up the men in the crowd, but in the absence of any description of the assailant he looks for little result from their work. The police theory is that the man, who stated to them either mistook him for a man against whom he had a grudge or chose him as a victim on whom to vent a drunken grouch.

gaged on the Gallipoli peninsula have been sent to Bulgaria. Thence, according to a report from Constantinople.

Greek military circles, Athens advises state, believe that while the position of the Serbian army is difficult it is not desperate. The campaign is developing as expected by the Greek experts, with the Bulgarians trying to cut off the Serbian northern army which is endeavoring to retreat in road order to its new line of defenses.

Greece and Bulgarians Friendly

Relations between Greece and Bulgaria continue friendly. It is reported by a Bucharest correspondent, who points to the success of a Greek commission in negotiations for the purchase from Bulgaria of wheat, which is to be exported by way of the De-degatch railroad to Saloniki.

Favor Joining the Allies

A Milan newspaper has received word from Bucharest that two-thirds of the generals on the Rumanian headquarters staff, at a meeting for discussion of the country's military policy, declared in favor of entering the war on the side of the entente allies.

Fighting in Champagne

Continued fighting in the vicinity of Butte-de-Taurine in the Champagne district in France, the position taken by the Germans in their latest drive, has not resulted in any material change in the relative positions of the contending forces, the Paris war office stated today.

BRITISH TROOPS JOIN SERBS IN TRENCHES TO FIGHT BULGARS

LONDON, Nov. 1, 12:17 p. m.—The British troops in the Balkans, whose movements have been kept secret since moving into Saloniki, prepared to rush through Greece to the assistance of Serbia, are now in the trenches with their Balkan allies at grips with Bulgaria just across the frontier near Strumitsa. Though reports that the allies have taken this town apparently are unfounded, it is along this frontier stretch of the front that the Bulgarians are likely to receive the first hard blows from their opponents.

From Uskup north to the Danube the Bulgarian offensive has made such progress that it seems to be out of the question for the Serbs to do much more than fight rear guard actions for the present. With Pirot in their hands, the Bulgarians are menacing Nish more seriously than the Austro-German forces based on the Sava and Danube crossings.

In northeastern Serbia the Bulgarians, well across the Timok river, are pressing forward vigorously in order to widen the line of communications with Hungary up the Danube valley. The much discussed Russian expedition, now estimated at 200,000 men, which is reported to be on the way to the Bulgarian coast, has not been heard from again. There are recent reports, however, of further bombardments of Bulgarian ports. This may mean that in a manner paralleling conditions of a land attack, further artillery preparation is necessary before the Russians attempt to gain a foothold on the coast.

At the Dardanelles the British are showing renewed activity. They are hammering the Turks with artillery, supported by such ships as are in the fleet as are not engaged against Bulgaria.

The recapture of Taurine hill by the Germans sums up for the present the known result of the sudden spurt of heavy fighting in the Champagne. While the contenders on the western front have not renewed the general offensive, it is likely that there will be frequent clashes over considerable stretches of the front while the Balkan situation is so acute as each side desires to prevent the other from transferring troops to the near east.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

Bulgarians occupy Pirot, southeast of Nish, and Austro-Germans try to surround Kraguyevatz, where Serb arsenal is located.

Austrians, after week of fierce fighting, cross the Drina south of Visegrad in Montenegro.

Allies establish themselves on southern end of Nish railway and feet continue to bombard Bulgarian forts on the Aegean.

Bulgarians rush reinforcements to support of Uskup.

Turks report allied transport hit and fired by gunfire at Dardanelles.

Italy has undertaken a general offensive and it is reported similar action will be started in France.

the price to be paid the farmer for the same, in an effort to protect the milk-raisers of the state.

Hon. Samuel McCall has been the attacking party. His principal criticism of Governor Walsh has been relative to the latter's delay in making appointments. To the democratic party generally he has charged the high cost of living and the high cost of government and has attacked that party both here and in Washington.

While at the time when the nominations were made, and the progressive party appeared all shot to pieces, the indications pointed strongly to the election of Mr. McCall, there has been a striking change in sentiment throughout the state, and disinterested followers of the campaign look for a close fight with the result in doubt, though the democracy is confident of success and bases its confidence upon what appears to be plausible grounds.

At the time the nominations were made it was assumed the progressives having slumped that the big progressive vote of last year would return to the republican party. But since then two issues have come prominently into the campaign, prohibition and the sectarian amendment which undoubtedly will bring as big a split as did a united progressive party. The prohibitionists, with a little more credit with the element in the candidate in Mr. Shaw have built up much more strength than they are being credited with, while Mr. Clark, the progressive candidate will surely get a few votes, not many, it is true, but some. Then it has become known that the fact that Mr. Bird and some other notable progressives have declared themselves for McCall is by no means an indication of what the entire membership of that party is going to do, for many progressives state openly that they still support Governor Walsh.

The vote of Lowell for governor last year was as follows:

Walsh, democrat 6638
McCall, republican 4313
Walker, progressive 628
Walsh's plurality, 1325.

The Senatorial Contest

Despite the large republican majorities in the seventh and eighth senatorial districts, democrats have been elected in each of these districts, and there is always a change. One of the hardest things that a democratic candidate has to contend with in the district is the element in his own party which, assuming that there is no chance for a democratic candidate, votes for the republican candidate.

In the seventh district Senator Kimball and Representative Burke have been elected in each of these districts, and there is always a change. One of the hardest things that a democratic candidate has to contend with in the district is the element in his own party which, assuming that there is no chance for a democratic candidate, votes for the republican candidate.

In the eighth district Senator Kimball and Representative Burke have been elected in each of these districts, and there is always a change. One of the hardest things that a democratic candidate has to contend with in the district is the element in his own party which, assuming that there is no chance for a democratic candidate, votes for the republican candidate.

In the eighth district the friends of James P. Dunnigan are confident of his ability to carry the district and Mr. Dunnigan states that if the democrats will support him to a man he can and will win. Senator Marchand's attitude on the milk bill which would have driven the milk-raising industry out of the state has put him in bad with the farmers who eat their living by their cows and they are plain-spoken in their opposition to him. They are all straight-faced republicans, but having been hit in the pocketbook by a republican whom they supported, they are going to split their ticket and vote for the democrat.

There is no such candidate. Furthermore, both are town officials of Dracut. Mr. Brennan, while in the legislature, manifested the same lively interest and care in his town office as he had done before his election. In the case of Rep. Colburn, it is said there is some complaint about the town.

In the 15th district, Rep. Higgins was denied his second term on "good-fellowship." Since last year a large number of voters have come to the conclusion that "good-fellowship" isn't a particularly safe proposition in politics.

In the 11th district many voters have come to the conclusion that perpetuity in office is not the best thing in the world even for republicans, and will vote to make a change by supporting Messrs. Corcoran and Crowley.

The Representative Contest

All of the democratic candidates in the district in which there are contests are confident of success. As there were turn-overs in the 14th and 15th districts last year, as a result of which two democrats, after serving one term, were replaced by republicans, so it is believed there will be turn-overs again this year, and the same two men who were turned out one year ago will go back for the customary second term.

One reason for this belief is the fact that Messrs. Colburn and Crowley have nothing in their legislative records in justification of the action of the voters in turning out Messrs. Brennan and Higgins. On the contrary, each has a record with certain features that will tend to lose him support. In the case of Mr. Brennan and Rep. Colburn, the latter was elected through the indirect aid of the progressive candidate. This year there is no such candidate. Furthermore, both are town officials of Dracut. Mr. Brennan, while in the legislature, manifested the same lively interest and care in his town office as he had done before his election. In the case of Rep. THE GREAT RALLY

The rally of Friday night was in many respects unique and in every respect a demonstration of popular confidence in Governor Walsh. As he said in his first remarks when he looked over the assembled thousands who had stood for four hours in the open air to hear him, "It means that a man who serves the people loyally and faithfully and who fights wealth and corporate interests in their behalf can get more than office; he can get the love and affection of the great common people of Massachusetts." None of those who were present and who saw the wonderful enthusiasm with which the governor was greeted or heard the applause at the conclusion of his address can doubt that he has the love and affection of the people of Lowell to a most uncommon degree.

As contrasted with the republican rally held here a short time ago, the rally of Friday night stands out clearly in one respect—its discussion of state issues and live policies. The long list of able speakers who preceded the chief executive took up different phases of the political situation but each spoke of something that is of vital importance to the citizens of this state. There was no manifestation of evasion or indirect attack; when the republicans were exposed names were called and facts were quoted, and there was no disposition to cover up any policy of the state administration by appeals for the support of President Wilson. The few speakers who asked for the re-election of Governor Walsh as an endorsement of the administration did so only after a recital of reforms that proved Governor Walsh worthy of popular support in the fullest measure. Moreover, the pointed questions of the governor to Mr. McCall were such as to contrast in strong relief the campaign waged by both men. Walsh, fighting without wealthy support or machine co-operation is the courageous candidate; McCall with the support of money, selfish organization and "invisible government" is the evasive and negative candidate.

Frederick W. Mansfield made a strong plea for the governor on non-partisan grounds, asking that Governor Walsh be judged by the standards of humanity. He proved from the history of state politics that the democrats have always stood by the workingman and have regarded him as something more than a piece of machinery and he proved moreover that no governor has done this to a greater extent than has Governor Walsh. He pleaded for the re-election of Governor Walsh on humanitarian grounds.

Hon. John P. Fitzgerald told how the governor has remained in office without the aid of the great interests that are so anxious to get close to the executive chair. He pictured the life of Governor Walsh as a struggle, and of his disposition to lean towards those who in turn are forced to struggle. On the other hand he painted Mr. McCall as the friend of organized capital, the signer of a tariff for which President Taft apologized to the nation, the man who has behind him all the support sponsored by Governor Walsh—the interests that are not in politics for the good of the people.

Judge Riley of Malden spoke of another phase of the political fight—and he managed to drive his facts home while the audience laughed heartily responsive to the play of his wit. He reminded his audience of the time when the leading republicans of Massachusetts went under cover, when candidates for office did not dare to say that they were supported by Lodge and Crane. This was in the days of the progressive wave—not very long ago—but now that the republicans have a few faint progressive planks, the old guard is back on the job. His address reminded many of the pleas of Messrs. Brandeis and Filene who warn the people of Massachusetts against the revival of Cannonism, Denroseism and the other isms of island-pat days.

All the speakers "were there with the goods," but Governor Walsh hit the bull every time. Amid scenes of the greatest enthusiasm he told of his work for the people of Massachusetts—his work for taxation reform, for popular education, for the poor and needy. He pledged himself to continue these great movements of popular progress and he asked his main opponent to make like frank declaration of his intentions. He did not speak to deaf ears when he asked Lowell for its support in order that democracy might triumph over the policies favored by McCall and those who support him so strongly and at such a tremendous cost. Lowell has shown that it is for Governor Walsh and what he represents.

FIRE PREVENTION

Some of the Peabody officials have publicly declared in answer to criticisms of their alleged laxity with regard to the school building approved by them that at present the state laws and the municipal laws conflict. There is one code of regulations for the entire commonwealth and under the administration of the district police, but each community is at liberty to frame its own peculiar regulations. It does not seem that the laws really conflict.

In principle, but if, the statement of Peabody officials is correct, there is an apparent lack of cooperation and consequently a lack of efficiency.

If a building is not safe in some particular, the local authorities should have sufficient power to insist on its being made safe without wondering whether or not it should be left to the state police, and if any change requested or ordered by local authorities is for the benefit of the public, the state police should approve. There is a regrettable tendency at present for each group to expect the other to take the initiative, and, after disaster, to blame it on to some technicality in the administration of the law. The public will demand less technicality and more real responsibility vested where it can be easily seen and where an account can be demanded after disaster. Where the functions of the state police and the local authorities conflict there is a great chance for such things as the Peabody conflagration.

The state regulations are very specific as far as they go and the very opening paragraph defining the duties of the district police would indicate that their function is to see that all communities respect the laws of public safety, etc. The regrettable Peabody affair will serve as a test of the law and while it is understood that no one was criminally responsible, there should be a full investigation so that the laws may be made more satisfactory in their purpose and in the method of their enforcement.

GET OUT AND VOTE

Tomorrow the polls will be open from 6 a. m. until 4 p. m. and it is the duty of every voter who is not incapacitated to go to the polls during that time and cast his ballot for the candidates of his choice. It is no slight duty, and a neglect of it by a great many people would eventually lead to a decline in good government and to a decay of democracy. In no other country in the world do the common people exercise the voting power with such few limitations, and only a citizen who does not realize the importance of the duty could possibly neglect it.

Occasionally one hears a man say that he does not vote as he takes no interest in politics. How does he ever hope to take an interest in politics when he does not try to influence politics? Where is the use of grumbling and criticizing when one is so indifferent that his country or his state call in vain for his service? In Europe the nations are calling upon the men to take up arms and risk their lives in the trenches; here, a great state asks its citizens to give a few minutes of their time at the polls in order that the only real democratic government on earth may be perpetuated. In the light of recent world events let us not regard our duty lightly. Whatever our choice—whether of person or party—let every voter go to the polls and vote conscientiously as a good American citizen.

PLATFORM PIFFLE

Any progressive who votes for the republican party tomorrow, thinking that he is still a progressive, will be sadly left. There is no more real progress in the policies of the republican party today than there was in the days of Governor Draper or any of those who preceded him. True, there is a platform with some vague allusions to hours of labor, taxation reform, a budget, etc., but they are left so delightfully non-committal that it will be easy to live up to them. They are something new in a republican platform in any form and they are designed merely as a lure for the wandering boys who went after the progressive banner some time ago. There will be some inconsistent progressives, to be sure, who will fly after Mr. Bial, but no sincere progressive whose faith was more than skin deep will be fooled by the planks that will be used by the voters of Massachusetts to make a coffin for the hopes of McCall and Co.

WATCH THE BALLOT

The result of the primaries was so good in view of increased difficulties in voting that one may expect still better things tomorrow; nevertheless, it is imperative that all voters vote carefully so that their approval is registered where they want it. The list of candidates and of parties is long and it is easy in marking the ballot to place the cross in the wrong space. Only care and patience will ensure accuracy, and all voters should be accurate so that their ballot will secure in the grand total. It is well, too, that every voter read the instructions that are on each ballot and observe the party designations after the name of each candidate. Except in cases of gross illiteracy there is little excuse for the voter who so votes that his ballot is counted as a blank.

A special word in behalf of Governor Walsh. His record and his personality should appeal to every voter of Lowell for he is the embodiment of the spirit of Lowell—the spirit of industry, courage and devotion to plain duty. His record has been long and open and it has been almost wholly blameless. Being human, he may have erred in small matters, but no governor has ever come before the people for re-election with greater claims to popular consideration. He has been the type of governor that republican and progressive can support without a sacrifice of principle, and he deserves the heaviest vote that Lowell has ever cast for governor.

SEEN AND HEARD

Women, as a rule, are more graceful than men. Men are more disgraceful.

Queer, isn't it, that the man who is suffering from a big head generally has a small mind.

Your judgment as to whether a man is excusable or not cannot always be depended upon, if you are the man.

The difference between persistence and obstinacy is whether it is you or the other fellow.

It is a fine rhapsody Yankee who says that the finest winter he ever knew in New England was one that he spent in Florida.

Queer, isn't it, that when almost everybody is talking about hard times, nobody seems to be particularly interested in your hard times.

Don't be so foolish when you catch big pluckers as to throw it overboard just because you are fishing for bass.

The police court judge must have to exercise self-control when he has to listen to a man who says "I'm very trying."

It is all right for a man who has done a good job to take a certain amount of satisfaction in it, but he ought not to spend his time talking about it for a week.

When an accused man asks the public to suspend judgment on his case the public may try to do it, but he feels pretty confident how things are coming out.

Even though your ancestors came over in the Mayflower, you may not have so big a bank account as the people next door who came over in the Lusitania.

With the exception of the obelisk in New York's Central park, this country has no monoliths on its monuments, but pyramids and obelisks are handed in at the drugstores every day.

Deepest Well in the World
The deepest well in the world is in a coal field in Germany. It is 7350 feet deep. The second deepest well is in the United States, 15 miles west of Pittsburgh. It is 1174 feet deep.

Four other wells in the United States are each more than a mile deep. One of the most interesting wells in the world is in western China. It is 3000 feet deep and was drilled for petroleum, with a cable made of strands of rattan.

Strong on the Come Back
In a recent discussion concerning which poet had produced the best war poems in modern times the palm was easily awarded to Rudyard Kipling.

The famous author's wit is proverbial, and he related a laughable story about a courting couple in "the good old days." One evening a stern father came rather hurriedly into the parlor and was much shocked to see his daughter and her "young man" occupying the same chair.

"Sir," he said, shaking his head solemnly, "when I was courting my wife, she sat on one side of the room and I sat on the other."

"Well," replied the suitor, not in the least abashed, "that's what I should have done if I had been courting your wife."

Not Lion's Meat
Unlike many professional musicians, Paderewski, who has been working so hard for the relief of Poland lately, has a great dislike to being "lionized" and his greatest aversion is the gushing admirer who tries to push him or herself forward.

On one occasion he was introduced to a lady worshiper who was evidently overwhelmed at making his acquaintance.

"I have an interesting souvenir of you, Mr. Paderewski," she said. "I visited your dressing room at the concert hall the other day, and found this on the floor. She, I have had it mended."

So saying, she showed him a date stone set in the gold, with an engraved inscription. "Madam," replied the great pianist, "I regret to tell you that I never eat dates. I am afraid that the stone was left there by the scrub-woman."

Then it was that the lady hastened to change the subject.

Autumn Leaves
They wandered through the forest paths beneath the glorious trees, whose foliage, brilliant-hued, was as if by every passing breeze.

The brilliant leaves came fluttering down.

And landed at their feet—They were two lovers, and love made their happiness complete.

He watched her gather bright-hued leaves.

Yellow, and brown, and red, And helped her find the choicest ones.

And then at last he said, "These brilliant leaves are beautiful. You say you want them pressed? Just put them underneath your belt, and I will do the rest."

SUNDAY AMBULANCE CALLS

Two ambulance calls to 22 Merrill street were responded to between 2:30 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. On answering the first call, the ambulance physician found a woman named Mrs. McDonald suffering from wounds on her forehead and body. She claimed to have been pushed down a flight of stairs, and was taken to St. John's hospital for treatment. A few minutes after returning to headquarters the ambulance was again called to the same house where Mrs. Nellie Malone was suffering from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid. She was removed to the Chelmsford street hospital.

James J. Whalen was taken to St. John's hospital Saturday night with an ugly scalp wound sustained when he fell down a flight of stairs at 49 Third street.

AS RUSSIAN CHANCELLOR

PREMIER JEAN GOREMYKIN SOON TO CONTROL FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF EMPIRE

LONDON, Nov. 1.—It is understood that Premier Jean Goremykin of Russia is soon to be appointed chancellor of the empire with supreme control of foreign affairs, a Reuter despatch from Petrograd states.

His appointment would make him the 12th Russian to hold such a position, the first having been Chancellor Goltz, appointed by Peter the Great in 1709, and the last, Prince Gortchakoff, who died in 1853.

The Boersse Gazette says that M. Goremykin's confidant will be M. N. Shchukin, formerly Russian ambassador at Vienna. The newspaper adds it is reported that Emperor Nicholas has accepted the resignations of Sergei Sazonov, minister of foreign affairs; M. Khrushchev, minister of agriculture, and of M. Khartanov, controller of the treasury. Alexei Khvostoff, minister of justice, will become premier, the Gazette declares.

DOUBLE MILITIA BUDGET

GARRISON EXPLAINS DEFENSE PROGRAM—CONTINENTAL ARMY OPEN TO ALL NATIONAL GUARD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Practically doubled federal appropriations for the state militia and opening of the proposed continental army to any organization or individual in the national guard desiring to enter and free to do so are contemplated in the army side of the administration's national defense program.

Details of the provisions to be made for the militia were made public for the first time in a statement issued yesterday by Secretary Garrison, commenting upon the conference held at the war department during the past week by the executive committee of the National Guard association.

Although opposition to the continental army idea was expressed at first by some of the national guard officers, when the conference closed it was announced that a mutual viewpoint had been reached.

"This body (the national guard), said Mr. Garrison's statement, all the time when there was practically no interest in this country concerning military matters, has been working, insofar as constitutional and other limitations would permit them, to work to do whatever they could do to improve the military situation of this country. They are absolutely entitled, by virtue of this fact, to full and proper recognition in any military system or policy to be proposed by the war department.

"In my proposition the membership of the national guard is offered alternative bases upon this recognition and meeting every proper point of view with respect to their relationship to the matter of military policy.

"In other words, I propose that any and every organization of the national guard that is free to do so, insofar as its state publications are concerned, may come over into the national force unit and be accorded exactly the same position therein that it now holds.

"Any individual who prefers the intensive training and other features of the national force will likewise be admitted thereto, rank for rank and grade for grade.

"It indicated my entire willingness and desire, in all propositions made by me, to do so in accordance with the membership of the national guard with respect to the national force as to give it full recognition.

"With respect to the national guard in the states, the plan not only contemplates continuing the financial and personal aid on behalf of the national government, but largely increases the same, practically doubling it the next fiscal year."

FOR WEST CENTRALVILLE
BUSINESS MEN OF THAT DISTRICT ARE TO ORGANIZE FOR MUTUAL BENEFIT

A meeting of the business men of West Centralville will be held at the rooms of the Centralville Club Tuesday evening for the purpose of forming a business men's improvement association. Several of the merchants of the district are deeply interested in the movement and they hope the plans for the new organization will be carried out successfully.

men's association was started by J. W. Allard, shoe dealer and several of the other merchants including Hon. John T. Sparks, Anthony A. Walsh, E. S. Desmarais, Avila Desrosiers and several others are helping to bring the matter to maturity.

If the organization is formed as the promoters of the affair have hoped it will, it is being planned to erect a very large sign on one of the high buildings of the district, this sign to be known as the West Centralville business directory. This will be a sort of an ornamental sign bearing the names and addresses of all the members of the association as well as the kind of business they are conducting. The sign will be artistically arranged and will be illuminated by electricity and it is believed once erected it will attract the attention of the residents of all parts of the city.

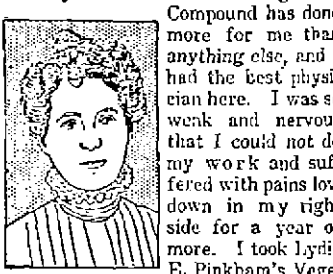

The meeting Tuesday evening will be held at 8 o'clock and the purpose of the gathering will be explained by Hon. J. T. Sparks. Then the association will be given a name and officers will be elected. The purpose of the association will be to bring assistance in the district and also to work up if possible the city council and lead them to do a few much needed improvements in the locality. The merchants feel that they could easily have and are entitled to better streets in the district and it is possible that within a few days Commissioner Moreau will be invited to take a ride over the rough pavements of Lakeview avenue and find out for himself the bad condition of this important thoroughfare. There are many other improvements needed in West Centralville and the merchants feel the only way to get them is by organizing.

PLAIN TALK TO CITIZENS

Mr. Guy D. Gold Tells About Some of the Shortcomings of Americans

"Americanization and Naturalization" was the subject of an interesting address by Mr. Guy D. Gold at the Grace church public forum Sunday night. Mr. Gold is a specialist in immigration. He said it is not only the man seeking American citizenship through the naturalization channel that is a little shy on knowledge as to the government and the management of it. "Stop any 20 men in Lowell, native born American citizens of any age," he said, "and ask them to name the members of the United States supreme court, and they cannot tell you; yet that is the sort of thing we are asking of all these people that come to us from foreign shores, and rightly we ask them. I demand of every American who is going to exercise the rights of his citizenship, the same knowledge. Citizenship in the United States should come relatively easy; but the exercise of the rights of citizenship should become harder and harder to acquire until such time as only those are permitted to exercise them who will exercise them to the good of this country."

"The responsibility is on you, President Wilson is right. The time has come when we need, as citizens of the United States of America, to challenge everyone. Where do you stand? Are you for us or against us? To be for us, means to stand by the principles of America, no matter what it costs the country from which we have come; to be for the United States, not right or wrong, but for the United States as we make her right. Now we are really with the United States of America in this great world crisis? How many are so sympathetic with one or the other of the great contending powers, that we are willing to sacrifice our American principles? This time has come for us to make an allegiance, not only for our present needs, but for our future. We are today in a very big crisis. England is practically the only European country which definitely and clearly recognizes the right of expatriation. The time has come when the United States of America must assert its right. If anyone chooses to leave the United States and become a citizen of any other country, we say no and we say, American citizenship is yours by right, we care not where you were born, we welcome you, and we will protect our naturalized citizens just as we protect the native born, in any country under the sun."

Mr. Gold advocated holding annual meetings in every city of a social nature, free from party politics or sectionalism, but for the purpose of impressing upon the newly made American citizen, that we welcome him because of what he gives us, as well as for what we have the privilege to give to him.

A question was asked Mr. Gold relative to the selling of votes. "It is no worse," said the speaker, "for a foreigner to sell his vote than it is for a native born American citizen to pay him money for it. The man who has some special interest he wants to advance is the real anarchist."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

"The Family Cupboard," one of the biggest dramatic sensations that the world has ever known, is the splendid bill offered by the Emerson players at the Opera House this week and of all the plays that have been produced on the American stage in the past twenty years, there are few which have scored such success. It is more gripping and thrilling than "Within the Law" or "Bought and Paid For" and presented as it is by the Emerson players, the Opera House should be taxed to its utmost capacity every afternoon and evening performance.

"The Family Cupboard" has been secured for one week only, by special arrangement with William A. Brady. This play has a punch. It is a drama of contemporary things, dealing with a phase of modern domestic life. It tells the story of the Nelson family. The husband and wife drift apart when they have been able to make money. Their son, disgruntled because of the conditions existing at home, hears of his father's mode of living and upbraids him. It is around this that the whole play revolves. It shows the consequences that are sure to follow when money replaces love in the home and the husband seeks elsewhere for the devotion he does not receive from his wife. It is a dramatic landlaid.

The play is wonderfully produced by the Emerson players. All the famous roles are played by the best of the actors. It is a play that is being played in all the great cities of the world. It is a play that is being played in all the great cities of the world.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait, give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a happy, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Richard Barry, Frank Wright, Forrest Gordon, Cecil Heights, and others play their respective characters wonderfully and really offer a $2 production.

The production of "The Family Cupboard" in scenic and electrical equipment is a whole. The settings are magnificent and the properties and accessories used are entirely new and different from anything that the theatregoers of Lowell have ever seen. For the past ten days, the entire stage crew have been at work on the production to make it one of the greatest successes ever achieved in theatricals in Lowell.

The finished productions of the Emerson players on Mondays and Tuesdays as well as the latter part of the week is one of the big features of this splendid aggregation of stock stars. Mediocre companies are usually lax in their first performances and difficulties arise but in the case of the Emerson players, on Monday afternoon the same gilt edged performance is given as on Saturday as the company is the best in New England. The wonderful system of the Emerson players, the quick work of the stage hands in making the changes and the general work is a revelation to the theatregoers of this city.

Since the opening of the season, hundreds have been turned away each week, because they have been unable to secure seats. To avoid this, patrons should reserve their seats early and arrange to come as early in the week as possible.

Seats are selling for the entire week. Make your reservations now. Phone 251. The box office is open daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. You can't afford to miss this. "I will be talking about it. Get your seats early."

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Odiva, the beautiful Samoan pearl diver who appears at the R. F. Keith theatre, this week, has an act which, for absolute novelty, is alone among the recent sensations of the varieties. It is true that there have been displayed various phases of natural feats. These, however, have been, without exception, confined to conventional arrangements of tanks in various positions. They have exploited swimmers and divers in various undertakings. But Odiva's performance is quite all the other. The stage setting discloses a purling stream flowing itself in the forest. Odiva is strolling through a woodland path, when she approaches the ice in the mirror-like surface. She then plunges into this tiny lake and disappears completely from view. On emerging from the lake she is seen to have divested herself entirely of the garments she had previously worn. She is now clad in the attire of the swimmer. After this she disappears into the water, and a line with her trained seals. Altogether she carries a vast amount of baggage for her act, and, after seeing it, one is certain that no ordinary amount would suffice. Trained sea lions, which were obtained in the Pacific ocean, assist her in her work. This is the first time it is thought, that any swimmer has ever gone into the water with the seals. And everything the seals do Odiva imitates. Some there are who have called her the "human seal." But she is far more than that. She represents the very acme of grace and beauty of line and curves. Her swimming movements are breaks or graceful movements. Everything she does has that self same grace which characterizes the pretty fish propelling itself through the water. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings swimming contests will be held in conjunction with Odiva's act. On Tuesday evening the boys and girls will be given a chance to compete, while adults will compete for prizes.

Charles A. Mack & Co. will produce a new Irish skit, which ought to prove most interesting. Mr. Mack has been here on several occasions, the last time in "Come Back to Erin," which has been rated as one of the prettiest of Irish comedies. His new act is called "A Friendly Call" and in it Mr. Mack will play the part of "Coh Connolly," and Leta Bastido will play the part of his daughter. Charles B. Nelson will do the character of "Mike Donovan."

Lulu Coates and her three "colored" "Crackerjacks" will create a little diversion all their own. Miss Coates is an exceptionally well qualified singer and dancer, and her company consists of three young assistants on the jump all of the time. Acrobatically, this act will prove to be most interesting.

Daniels and Conrad are two boy prodigies, one playing the violin and the other the piano. Their program gives some lock of their ability. Their first number, "The Meditation" from "The Four Seasons" by Vivaldi, will be the "Overtones" by W. S. Lawski. A paraphrase of the familiar "Annie Laurie" will next be given, and the close will be movements from the Fantasia Appassionata by Chopin.

The Four Charles are comedy and novelty jugglers, who close in a most unusual scene. Bernard and Meyers will give a "crazy scene" of unusualness, and Lew Fitzgibbon, the king of the xylophone, will play several numbers. In addition to this there will be a variety of other acts.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Blanche Ring, the celebrated comedienne, who is one of the stars recently moved into the motion picture world is the headline on the bill at the Merrimack Square theatre for today, Tuesday and Wednesday. She will make her screen debut on the Paramount program in the five act play, "The Yankee Girl," adapted for the "movies" from the play of the same name in which she won a splendid triumph several years ago. The filmization of this play preserves all the breezy wit and capital situations which were contained in the original production and wonderful scenes are shown in the screen production which were impossible in the former—such as the wonderful marine scenes taken at the world famous Catalina Islands, and the hacienda scenes taken at the Ferrol.

SANDERSON RANCH HOUSE, A LANDMARK

150 years old half-way between Los Angeles and San Gabriel and one of the historic taverns of the Mission days. Miss Bing wears some glowing frocks in "The Yankee Girl," and while she is positively bewitching in her bathing suit, it is the three evening gowns which deserve more than casual praise. The theme of the play concerns the race of two men in obtaining some important commercial concessions, and while the principals of the play are in dead earnest and go to great lengths to accomplish their designs, much delightful humor is cleverly introduced into the action of the play to cause the audience to burst into expressions of merriment.

IN THE SUN BUILDING

ANNAL M. OULETTE, DESIGNER OF GOWNS, INCREASES HER ESTABLISHMENT

Miss Anna M. Oulette, the well known designer of gowns and dresses and a recognized authority on ladies' apparel, who has been a tenant in the Sun building for the past two years and a half, has found it imperative to increase the size of her establishment due to the expansion of her business. Her dressmaking parlors which are situated on the seventh floor of the Sun building, now consist of four rooms, the former number being three. The new room which has been added will be used as a workroom for the many expert dressmakers which Miss Oulette employs to embody into the clothes of her patrons her original and clever ideas on women's dress. With the increase in the number of her customers and the corresponding increase in orders for fashionable attire, Miss Oulette has for some time felt the need of enlarging her establishment, but it was not until now that she was able to secure this extra room which adjoins her other rooms. Entering room 701, the visitors find herself in the handsomely appointed reception room, through which she passes to the well arranged fitting room; and leading off from this are the two work rooms for her large number of dressmakers, whose number has been augmented since the establishment has been enlarged.

It is Miss Oulette's intention to carry even a larger stock of the latest styles in ladies' hosiery, in a greater variety than formerly.

Miss Oulette invites old and new customers to visit her enlarged establishment, assuring them of even better service than has characterized her shop previous to its latest expansion.

Miss Oulette's success, like that of the other numerous tenants who have availed themselves of the opportunity to locate in the absolutely fireproof Sun building, with its unexcelled conveniences, is an example of a well conducted establishment ideally located.

Broken-hearted, the girl notices an old friend of both her and the student of the condition of things and he hurries east. He then tells the girl that the ceremony was performed, not by an impersonator, but by a real minister, and the student, hearing this and fearing the church, hurries west, and the girl and the student, lawyer and the girl are happily married. Miss Wehler portrays the part of the young girl in this film and she has many opportunities to display her great emotional ability.

JAPAN TO HELP ALLIES

PARIS, Nov. 1, 4 a. m.—While Japan will be unable to send troops to the European theatres of war, she will gladly assist the entente allies as far as she can financially and lend them the support of her arms.

"There was talk last November of Japanese forces fighting in Europe," Count Okuma is reported to have said. "To have done that we should have had to send 400,000 men, expecting to lose 100,000 of them and replace them with 200,000 more. We had not the necessary resources for we should have wanted 2,000,000 tons of shipping and our commercial fleet aggregated only 1,000,000. In the face of these figures Great Britain and France understood the impossibility of the operation."

"Our sympathies being as strong as ever, we should wish to give France our financial support at least and thus perhaps hasten the end of the war. Japan is not a great financial power."

have just covered twice over a government loan of 30,000,000 yen ($15,600,000) and that probably would make the Japanese position difficult; but to prove our sympathy for the U.S. we should be happy to give our aid, however modest.

"The impossibility of sending troops westward does not prevent us giving our allies naval and military support. Our conscripts are mobilized as in time of war. We are also sending a strong force in the far east, preventing enemies from fomenting revolt among the warlike Mussulman peoples who might be tempted to profit from your difficulties. We are also doing everything necessary to guard against danger from the Sino-Soviet railway, along which our supplies reach Vladivostok. In Japan we are acting on the principle that, of all Japanese actions, that while our allies are fighting we shall not allow them to be attacked.

THREW BODY INTO STREAM

Man Killed by Speeding Auto—Body Dragged 20 Feet and Hurled Into Pond

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Nov. 1.—William McFadden, aged 38, living on Scotland street, was struck and killed by an automobile near Skim Milk bridge, on the Raynham road, soon after 4 yesterday afternoon.

Then his body was dragged from the roadside and thrown in the stream running under the bridge.

Every effort has been made to trace the large red touring car said to be responsible for the accident, but the dragnet thrown out in the surrounding towns has not been productive of results. The body was found about an hour after the accident.

Mr. McFadden left his home soon after noon, and was walking in the direction of Cohasset, on the swamp road. From the evidence at hand, he was struck by the car near the bridge and hurled violently to the roadside.

Medical Examiner Paine said that the machine must have been making good speed for McFadden was thrown 15 feet, striking against the fence and a tree near the roadside.

The body was dragged a distance of about 20 feet from where the pool of blood was found and dropped into the stream passing under the road. The water is shallow at that spot, and when discovered the body was near the shore, the clothing badly torn and covered with mud.

An attempt had been made to obliterate the bloodstains in the road for some reason had been thrown loosely over the spot where the body fell.

The medical examiner said that the impact must have been terrific, for the particles of the brain had been left on the fence and tree. After the body had been dragged to the waterway the automobile sped in the direction of West Bridgewater and trace of it was lost.

The body was discovered by Calvin Pratt of Taunton, who came from Raynham through the Hooknook swamp road. His attention was attracted to the pool of blood in the street and he stopped his car to investigate.

He saw the body in the water, partially submerged, and without waiting to investigate further, returned to Raynham and telephoned the Taunton police. They said that they had no jurisdiction in the case, and informed him that he should get in touch with the West Bridgewater authorities, and this he did.

Edward L. Paradise, living on Scotland street, a short distance from the scene of the affair, was walking over the bridge about an hour after the accident and saw the body in the stream. He telephoned to Brockton and Inspector from the police department in that city were dispatched to the scene. They returned when it was found that the accident was in West Bridgewater.

Policemen Henry O. Davenport and W. L. Woodworth of the local force took charge of the case and as soon as they found out that a large red touring car figured in the affair they sent word to the police in the towns about, asking them to hold up cars answering that general description and question the drivers.

HONORED DEAD

Fully 5000 Joined C. M. A. C. at Memorial at St. Joseph's Cemetery

Over 5000 people, men, women and children went to St. Joseph's cemetery yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual memorial of the C.M.A.C. for its deceased members. The weather was ideal for such a trip and the ceremonies, which included a sermon by Rev. Augustin Gratton, M.I., the chanting of the laud and the firing of volley over the graves of the deceased Oblate fathers, and over that of the first captain of Garde d'Honneur, a branch of the C.M.A.C., the late Maise Cossette.

Numerous automobiles and carriages conveyed the parishioners to the cemetery, while the Bay State Street Light Co. operated 16 special cars from Merrimack square to the corner of Gorham and Centre streets.

At 1 o'clock the members of the C.M.A.C. with the semi-military guards of the city gathered at the headquarters of the association in Parvillet street and at 1:30 o'clock marched to St. Joseph's church in Lee street.

Arriving at the church, the choir and the roster of the procession was as follows:

A. G. Cadets' Brass band, under the leadership of Frank Lapointe; Zouaves of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, Capt. Alcide Soucy; Zouaves of St. Louis parish, Capt. Rodolphe Asselin; two companies of A. G. Cadets, Capt. Ballefontaine and Capt. Bondeau; officers of the Angel Guardian sodality and their chaplain, Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I.; Garde St. Louis, Capt. Alfred Grenier; Capt. Suro-Coeur, Capt. Horace Deslattes; Garde Frontenac, Capt. Albert Bergeron; Garde d'Honneur, Capt. Nelson Phillips; American flag and banners of the C.M.A.C., members of the association, headed by Emory Racette.

At 2 o'clock a Libera was chanted at St. Joseph's church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O.M.I., chaplain of the association. The choir was under the direction of Telephore Maitre with Mrs. J. A. Bernier as the organ. The solo of the Libera were rendered by T. H. Deslaurier. At the close of the ceremony the band played a selection and then the line formed again and marched to John street, where special cars were boarded for the cemetery.

At the corner of Gorham and Centre streets the line again formed and the large congregation proceeded to the cemetery to the strain of Chopin's funeral march played by the band. Upon reaching the grounds the large gathering assembled around a temporary platform erected for the occasion near the grave of the late Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I., and Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I., delivered his sermon, his subject being "The Cemetery."

The preacher gave a proper definition of the word "cemetery," saying it was a place of rest for the deceased and not a place of amusement. He urged his listeners to frequent the cemetery often and pray for the dead. He reminded the gathering that most of them have a mother, a father, sisters and brothers lying in the grave and he said they may be constantly asking for a prayer. At the close of the sermon a Libera was chanted by a double quartet from St. Joseph's church under the direction of Telephore Maitre, the soloists being sustained by Oliver J. David, choirmaster of St. Joseph's church, while Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O.M.I., officiated.

When the religious service was brought to a close a firing squad from Garde d'Honneur fired three volleys over the graves of the Oblate fathers and then the gathering repaired to the grave of the late Maise Cossette, where taps were sounded by Frank Lapointe and Arthur Giorlet of the A. G. Cadets Brass band, and three volleys fired.

The procession again formed and those in line marched to the cars. The committee in charge of the memorial was as follows: Louis St. Jean, chairman; Aurelien Girard, secretary-treasurer; Edmond Matte, Joseph Elie, Ladger Ouellette and Arthur St. Hilaire, ex-officio.

BLACKSMITHS' MEETING

CANDIDATES HEAR CRITICISM FROM FRANK WAHNOCK-MAYOR AND PALMER SPEAK

The open meeting conducted by the blacksmiths of the city Saturday evening in Leatherworkers hall, 233 Central street, was a highly successful and enjoyable affair. The hall was filled to overflowing and following the program, which included several speakers and a well arranged entertainment, a large number of applications for membership were received. The meeting was in the nature of a get-together and smoke talk for prospective members of the union of blacksmiths and helpers to be formed here.

Walter Chase, president of the Billerica car shops' local, was the presiding officer, and after brief remarks, in which he explained the purpose of the meeting, and the results expected in obtaining sufficient numbers to start an organization in this city. After a pleasing social program, the chair was introduced Mayor Murphy, who told of the advantages to be derived from tradesmen organizing to protect their interests and he spoke in favor of one day off in five for permanent firemen.

Joseph Palmer, candidate for mayor, followed the mayor. He said that organization among the different trades of the city means a bigger, better and brighter Lowell. He also spoke in favor of one day off in five for the firemen. He received a good hand, and upon being called upon to sing a song he responded with a classical number, James E. Donnelly was enthusiastically applauded when he sang a number of Henry Lauder's songs, and he was obliged to respond to several requests.

Frank Wahneck, president of the Trades & Labor council, said: At the time the pumping station was to be built I personally interviewed your members of the city government, and asked them to vote against awarding the contract for the job to Contractor Gow. One of your commissioners, now present, informed me on the South common that he would vote against him obtaining that contract, and I felt sure of one vote. I then went to the other members, and each in turn promised to support me in my fight against this man. A few days afterward I left for Washington to attend the annual convention of Plasterers, and I had hardly landed in the capital city before I was informed by telegram that every member had turned around and voted to award the contract to Contractor Gow. In my campaign speeches I am going to get out and tell the people of Lowell just who is and who is not unfaithful to organized labor. Those who have been, will be shown up and the people will also know who treated them fairly.

Joseph Convery and Fireman Convery, members of the Lowell Firemen's club, asked the support of the gathering at the polls for one day off in five for the firemen of this city. The meeting closed with remarks by International Vice President Fred C. Bolan and W. H. Powelson of Toronto, Canada, a member of the Blacksmiths' International organization.

WM. H. CAREY

He Gets Five Hundred Dollars from Carnegie Hero Fund

William H. Carey, the local hero, who was awarded a bronze medal by the Carnegie Hero fund commission, a report of which appeared in Saturday's Sun, to day received official notification of the award, and he was surprised to find that in addition to the medal he is to receive $500 for his act of heroism. The letter arrived today, and Mr. Carey who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, is elated over the finding. "The fact that I was to receive a medal," said Mr. Carey, "caused me to forget my illness, for I was elated to hear that I was to be made the recipient of such a valuable trophy, but today when I found that I was also to get $500 I made me jump with joy."

The letter which contained the official award was in part as follows:

October 29, 1915.

Dear Mr. Carey:

Your case after a thorough investigation was considered at a meeting of the commission held this afternoon and I have much pleasure in informing you that in recognition of your heroism on that occasion, the commission awarded you a bronze medal and the sum of $500 for a worthy purpose to be approved by the executive committee. I shall be obliged if you will kindly advise me without delay by letter bearing your own signature whether or not you wish to accept the commission's award. If your reply is affirmative the medal will be ordered and it will be delivered as soon as it has been received from the manufacturer, and the money will be held for you until it is needed for the purpose which will later be decided by the executive committee.

Yours very truly,

F. M. Wilcox.

Manager of Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

VOTE TAXATION REFORM

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD SUPPORT THIS AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

The subject of taxation reform on which Governor Walsh has laid such emphasis during his campaign is one of the great economic questions of the hour in this state. All parties agree that our present taxation system is inadequate and out of date, but no party has a more definite program of reform than the democratic party. This program is in line with the attempts of Governor Walsh to get a reform in tax levying and collecting methods through a republican legislature. It is a matter that affects every voter, for with a satisfactory tax system the state would have more revenue to pay the bills which it has incurred in cities and towns and the burden of taxation would be distributed more evenly.

Governor Walsh has declared many times that this state is cheated out of millions of dollars yearly owing to the ineffectiveness of its present tax system. Owners of stocks and bonds find many loopholes of escape from just taxation and those that do pay taxes are forced to pay more than their just share. If all stocks and bonds were declared, the tax revenue would be far greater. It is the plan of the democratic party to conduct a declaration of all intangible property. Compulsory returns would prevent tax dodging.

Another taxation reform favored by Governor Walsh and the democratic party is the redistribution of corporation taxes by the state so that the more revenue would come to the cities and towns where the properties are located instead of to rich towns and cities where the stockholders live. If this were in force, Lowell would get many thousands of dollars annually that now go to other places and do us no good. This subject of tax reform should command itself to every voter who is interested in civic progress and desirous of seeing a reduction in the high cost of living.

Mr. Waller was one of the leading actors of England. He first appeared in 1852 at the age of 23 and thereafter played in the English provinces and most of the West End theatres of London. He played in the United States in the season of 1911-12.

BEFORE COURT MARTIAL

Rear Admiral Little Pleads Not Guilty to Charges of Neglect and Careless Methods

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, pleaded not guilty before a naval court martial today, to charges of neglect and careless methods while on duty as an inspection officer during the construction of the submarine K-2 at the Fore River Shipbuilding company's yard at Quincy, two years ago. Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske was president of the court martial and Lieut. Commander Alfred W. Johnson, as judge advocate, opened the proceedings by reading the list of charges. Commander James L. Latimer represented Rear Admiral Little.

Lieut. Hamilton Moses, the first witness, stated that he was one of the inspecting officers at Fore River during the building of the K-2 and subsequently was her commanding officer. He said he called the attention of

Lieut. Child, another inspecting officer at the yard, to certain defects in the battery cells. The voltage, he said, ran low after each discharge and upon investigation he found lead drops in 14 of the 37 cells. He testified that he did not report the defects to Rear Admiral Little but talked the matter over with him. The contractors, Lieut. Moses said, objected to making any change in the battery cells.

Commander Latimer, counsel for Rear Admiral Little, raised the point that the condition of the cells did not constitute a defect in the workmanship on the submarine, but was due to construction by their makers, a New York firm, which had been required by specifications to furnish them. The court went into executive session to discuss the point.

SUPPLY FAMILIES OF SOLDIERS

LONDON, Nov. 1, 1915 p. m.—A committee of the German socialist party has issued a statement contending that the new regulations concerning food-stuffs are insufficient and demanding new rules, says a Central News despatch from Amsterdam. The socialist party and a committee representing trades unions have petitioned the chancellor to supply soldiers' families with potatoes and coal from November until March at the expense of the empire.

GREECE AND BULGARIA FRIENDLY

LONDON, Nov. 1, 1915 p. m.—A continuance of friendly relations between Greece and Bulgaria is indicated by the success of a Greek commission which recently went to Sofia to negotiate for the purchase of wheat for Greece. According to the Times' Bulgarian correspondent the Bulgarian government has decided to permit the export of wheat to Greece by way of the Dedagatch-Sofia railway.

A despatch reaching Bucharest from Sofia says an ordinary session of the assembly (parliament) which was scheduled for Oct. 28, was adjourned by royal decree until December 28.

DOCTOR PRESCRIBED VINOL

To Restore Strength to This Weak, Nervous, Woman

Many fair-minded doctors prescribe Vinol because they know of what it is made, viz.—the medicinal extracts of fresh cod livers, peptonate of iron and beef peptonate, without oil or grease, in a mild tonic wine. They know these are the oldest and most famous tonics. Read the result in Mrs. Mason's case.

"I keep house for my little family of two, and got into a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I was tired and weak and did not know what ailed me. My doctor prescribed Vinol. I noticed an improvement before I had finished the first bottle, and am now feeling fine and doing all my housework." Mrs. M. S. Mason, 229 Passaic St., Trenton, N. J.

Every weak, nervous, run-down person, feeble old people and delicate child in Lowell should try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails to benefit.
